HOMECOMING - 1960

Football Game

BLACKSHEAR FIELD

Prairie View A & M College

VS

Texas College

Tyler, Texas

HOMECOMING at Prairie View is one of the great occasions of the year. Today, the college welcomes the thousands of old grads and ex-students back once again to their Alma Mater. The 1960 Homecoming Theme is "Prairie View's Role in Cultural Development". The General Alumni Association sponsors several activities during the week-end which all visitors are urged to attend. Reunion classes are from the years 1910, '20, '30, '40, '50.

TODAY'S GAME is a major Southwestern Conference battle between two very old athletic rivals in Texas. The College Steers have always been a formidable foe for the Panthers, and today's game will probably be no exception.

As for Homecoming victories, the Panthers have not lost a game on this occasion in many years. But today's game is another story, and we must wait and see.

Welcome Ex-Students And Friends

GREETINGS

It is always a real pleasure for me to welcome the Alumni and Ex-Students back home.

Homecoming is always a banner day for all of us who share the spirit of the occasion and are members of that cherished group known as the Prairie View Family.

As we pay homage to our Alma Mater, let us again re-dedicate our lives to the principles of service which this institution so firmly stands.

May I wish for you a most enjoyable occasion and continued success in your various fields of endeavor.

Greetings From Texas College

It is my happy privilege to extend greetings to the Prairie View Panthers, their loyal supporters and friends.

In a chaotic, unsettled world, where daily the old values are shifting and changing, it is well that we do not lose sight of all our traditions. Through the years the friendly rivalry between the Prairie View Panthers and the Texas College Steers has been one of which every Texan and alumnus of these two institutions can be proud.

The Board of Trustees, faculty and student body of Texas College cherish the hope that the friends who come from far and near to witness the clash on the gridiron today will enjoy a good game and that the benefits of athletic competition will be everlasting.

Again, our best wishes to all of you on this your Homecoming Day.

What College Football Has Meant to Me

LOU CORDILEONE, Tackle
Clemson College

One thing makes me like football—contact. There is nothing more satisfying than to make a good, clean, hard block and spring a fast back into the clear; or to throw an opposing back for a loss. Football games are either won or lost in the line and the degree with which you carry out your assignment indicates who is the best man — you or your counterpart.

BOB SIMMS, End
Rutgers University

I get fun, exercise and a thrill from competing in football but more important, I've learned one of life's most important lessons: those who train most conscientiously and try hardest will succeed or be unashamed in defeat.

BILL CARPENTER, End
U. S. Military Academy

Football is more than just a game to me. Sure I love contact and the sense of satisfaction a successful play produces. The importance of the game, however, was clearly imparted by Coach Earl Blaik when he said: "The strategy, tactics, physical exertion and teamwork required on the football field simulate actual combat conditions." Since mine is the profession of arms, I find playing the game a valuable asset to me.

WAYNE CROW, Quarterback
University of California

Football gives me the opportunity to compete with the finest athletes in our country. To be successful in this high competition I must gain the respect of my teammates. This can only be done by disciplining myself into giving a full effort every day. This is true in my personal life. Respect can be gained only by discipline and effort. This is why I like football — it teaches me principles on the field that are to be used all through my life.

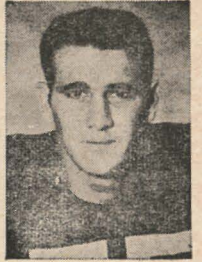

PRENTICE GAUTT, Fullback
University of Oklahoma

Football certainly builds character. Then you have the opportunity to meet many different types of guys and you have to learn how to get along with other people. Football is very valuable in later life because you learn how to take defeat as well as victory.

DONALD FLOYD, Tackle
Texas Christian University

Football is a rugged American game, one which offers the vigorous young man an opportunity to excel both physically and mentally. Aside from the thrill of exciting play, it teaches such values as team-play, sportsmanship, physical stamina and determination in a way you never forget.

JAKE CROUTHAMEL, Halfback
Dartmouth College

Competition, the thrill of contact sport, and the challenge to the ability of an individual are my reasons for liking to play football. College competition is, of course, best of all, and you never enter a game that you don't know that you'll be facing the very best an opponent can throw at you. This makes it all the better as far as I'm concerned. I like football, I like to play football. Getting that extra foot after an opponent has tried to stop you is a challenge every-time.

What Does College Football Mean to YOU?

If you agree with the precepts of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, listed on the right, we hope you will help in the dissemination of those principles and in the building of the Football Hall of Fame by filling in the coupon below:

I believe in your principles for college football. I should also like to aid in the building of the Football Hall of Fame. My check for $..... is enclosed.

Precepts of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame

1. That football teaches principles on the field that are of moral use throughout later life — and not at any one college, but at all colleges.
2. That the game is the finest training ground for keeping America strong when Americans need to be strong.
3. That the game, in line with N.C.A.A. principles on recruiting, be kept amateur off the field as well as on.
