TODAY'S GAME

By Joe Booker, PV Sports Information Director

After four straight wins (including a 2-0 forfeit win over Texas Lutheran), the Prairie View Panthers could learn about the hard facts of life when they host the Alcorn Braves at 2:00 p.m. on Blackshear Field today . . . but don't bet on it.

Today Danzy, PV's head coach, goes against his former school of 8 years, where he was assistant coach. Danzy is adamant about one thing in today's game, while at the same time keeping himself on the spot: "It doesn't hurt seers to be optimistic. It's good for business."

Almost everyone agrees that the Panther coaching staff is making a special concession to immediacy, and under such circumstances, it is suicide to place the Panthers into complete limbo today.

The sudden maturation of sophomore quarterback Andrew Smith, enhances Danzy's optimism, along with a hardnose defensive team headed by the Brocks, Wolfs, Sharpes, Simmons, Thompsons and etc. The clutch play of Allen Merchant, has also been a factor in the Panthers' success.

On the other hand, the Panthers' opponent, the Alcorn Braves, are also in the ascendancy and will be out to break PV's four-year home winning streak. The Braves are one of the conference favorites and have a lot at stake, but that's not Danzy's concern.

Pacing the Braves' attack are quarterback William Wooley, who has passed for over a 1,000 yards and running back Clifton Davis, who has rushed for over 400 yards.

On defense, the Braves are tough. They lead the Southwestern Athletic Conference in total defense

In 14 meetings since 1929, the Panthers hold a two game edge. PV has won 8 and lost 6.

Alcorn won last year in a squeaker, 33-13.
