September 1932

GREETING:

I am happy to welcome you, my Colleagues, to Prairie View State College, for another year of fine work. This valuable clipping which Professor H. G. Dickerson handed me I am passing to you as my greetings:

MY SEPTEMBER PROGRAM

Today-----I Will

1. Reap where I have sown.
2. Be orderly in all my activities.
3. Put renewed spirit into my work.
4. Admit God to closer partnership.
5. Know that my labor is a glorified thing.
6. Assemble all my forces for greater efficiency.
7. Help some one else to profit.
8. Waste no time in worry or regret.
9. Righten my work by finding joy in it.
10. Check up my relations to others.
11. Be joyful in praise and worship.
12. Seek Higher Efficiency.
13. Give of myself with every gift.
14. Indulge in no useless longings or vain regrets.
15. Rise above all personality.
16. Cleanse my thoughts of all negation.
17. Desire for others good equal to my own.
18. Turn to my Creator in humble faith.
19. Devote more thought to giving than to receiving.
20. Give support to all worthy enterprises.
21. Look for spiritual rather than material values.
22. Speak only in terms of commendation.
23. Keep my eye single to the good.
24. Study carefully my opportunities.
25. Be transformed by the renewing of my mind.
26. Find new stimulus in my work.
27. Expect an abundance of good.
28. Not grieve over apparent set backs.
29. Give credit where credit is due.
30. Speed up my work without sacrificing accuracy.

And, finally:

There is no finer and more sacred privilege which can come within one's life experience than to be a servant for this host of interesting life and endeavor, to lead it to higher levels of efficient activity and pure thinking.

Regular Workers' Meeting will be held Monday evening at 7:30 in the College Chapel. Wives of teachers and employees are cordially invited to be present.
