VOL. I ISSUE 44, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1985

UP-N-DOWN 290
By Marty

One of the really nice things about living in a small town, is the opportunities I have to see and work with my friends and neighbors on local projects from time to time. Last weekend was one of those times when I'm constantly reminded just how lucky I am to live in North Waller County.

I opened my big mouth a couple of months ago at the Waller Area Chamber of Commerce meeting, when plans were being solidified for Waller Fest '85, and said that there should be some sort of activity where folks could sit in the shade for awhile, and relax, while still participating in the fun of the festival. I have observed that, although the festivals around these parts are a lot of fun, sometimes people just seem to get pooped out, or overheated, when having to stay on their feet out in the hot sun for extended periods of time. Therefore, I suggested that we develop an activity that can combine fun with sitting, and shade, and non-gambling Bingo was the result of our brainstorming session.

I ran (semi-jogged) in the Fun Run on Saturday morning, so nobody around needed to sit in the shade any more than this rubber-legged grandpa. Cheri & I ran the bingo game at the fest, and we had a wonderful time getting to see all of our friends, as they came by to play a game two, or just stopped by to say "howdy" to us. We were a bit concerned about how we were going to gather and set up all of the chairs & tables needed for bingo, but we needn't have been, as several of the local men jumped right in and helped us with this massive project. We borrowed chairs and tables from several local organizations, and hauled them out to Waller Villiage, where the festival was going on.

Waller Fest '85 A Smashing Success

The crowds came, the sun shone, the music played, the good times flowed, and as Waller Fest '85 goes down in history; it can be said that it was a true success by any measure.

The Waller area bustled with activity last weekend, as the Waller Area Chamber of Commerce presented it's 1985 version of Waller Fest. The Fun Run on Saturday morning kicked things off, with lots of folks from our area, and from miles around, competing with each other and with themselves, in the healthy competition offered by the run. Theresa Miller and Bro. Rodney Bowman had things well organized at the stadium, and the Waller Police, assisted by other volunteer peace officers, kept the racecourse safe for the runners. The winner in each event set a record, as this was the first annual running of the masses, so there will be targets to be beaten next year.

The large, colorful tent set up out at Waller Villiage, served as the hub of activity, where 40 booths were set up to display goods, services, games, information, competition, and other forms of fun and interest for the large crowds who came to see and do.

Waller Fest'85, sponsored by the Waller Area Chamber of Commerce, was designed as a fundraising activity, to help the chamber gather the necessary funds to support its' many activities in the Waller area. In addition to the many concessions run by the chamber, other non-profit organizations, as well as some local small merchants, were able to participate by renting booth space, and plying their wares to the throngs of happy, fun-seeking people who showed up to be a part of the good times.

Tim Phelan, Chamber President and Chairman of the event, was able to coordinate all of the activities and help solve thousands of small problems, and never seemed to lose his cool. "The job was made easier by the willing help of our many chairpersons, who handled each phase of the festival so smoothly" he said. "The volunteers pitched in and helped each other, so the overall project went quite well, I think".

Several bands supplied music for the appreciative audiences and milling masses, good food was available from several vendors, cold drinks were much appreciated, and many fun games challenged the competitive nature of the visitors. There was a wide variety of interesting things to buy, try, or do, so everyone seemed to have a good time.

Friends Of Youth BBQ Held May 25

Last Saturday found 15 to 20 members of The Friends of Youth out on the corner of Austin and 12th streets, hawking their wares to raise funds for their project. Racks of delicious chicken barbeque were adding aromatic smells to the air of Hempstead, and the public, knowing about the great tastes in store for them, were lining up to take the chickens home for dinner.

The Friends of Youth is an organization dedicated to helping boost the prices earned by our youngsters each year at the Junior Livestock Sale at the Waller County Fair. although they do not buy any animals themselves, they try to see to it that each entrant in the contest receives a fair price for his animal(s), by adding to the auction price earned, if necessary, to see to it that enough money is earned

Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon Held

They came on bikes and afoot last Saturday, to Hempstead High School, to help raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The Rev. Kenneth Flora, Chairman of the event, had the work crew ready to keep the records, and run the affair, and the weather was perfect.

The participants had gone to businesses and individuals in advance, and gotten them to pledge so much per mile in payments, for each mile completed by the biker or walker, or to pledge a flat donation amount.

Local 4-H Supports Project Tejas

Three 4-H'ers from Waller County will be taking part in the 1985 State 4-H Roundup, June 4-6, at Texas A & M University.

The county's 4-H members will be among some 1,600 from across Texas taking part in a host of activities, says Cathy Broun, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Texas A & M University System.

Jamie LeNoir of Macedonia 4-H Club will compete in Agronomy with an illustrated talk. Frank Munos and Marty Seets of Rock Island 4-H Club will compete with their illustrated talk on Safety & Accident Prevention.

 Then they started around the course laid out along the streets of Hempstead.
 The competitors came in all ages and sizes, with a wide variety of bicycles or footgear, and all were most enthusiastic. They attacked the course with gusto, and racked up the miles quickly.

 This week, they will go around and collect the money owed them, and they can turn it in to Teacher, John Mathis, at the Hempstead Elementary School, to JoAnne Mathis at the Citizens State Bank, or to Rev. Fleta of The Community Chapel, if they can catch him as he goes about the area tending to his many worthwhile projects.

The first prize for collecting the most money is a $75 savings account at the Citizens State Bank. 2nd prize will be a $50 savings account at First Savings. 3rd prize is a $25 savings account at Citizens State Bank, and 4th prize will be a $10 savings account at Blushonnet Savings. If a participant collects at least $30, he or she will get a special T-shirt, and if $75 or more comes in, a beautiful official sports tote bag is added to the prized of the competitor.

 The drinks for the event were donated by Travis Winfree of Winfree's Market, and the ice by Randy Lewis, of Lewis' Grocery, and these folks are to be thanked for their help in the effort. A special "Thank-You" is in order, to all of the generous sponsors or donors, who will be providing the money for Cystic Fibrosis.
 At the time of publication, it was not known how much money was earned by the bike-a-thon, but, like any charity event, every little bit helps. Thanks go out to all of the people, young and old, who participated in the event by either competing, or by working to insure it's success.

They're Off!! Runners of all ages, shapes and sizes set off on the Fun Run last Saturday. This activity was part of Waller Fest '85, and proved to be quite a workout in the temperature.

Political Observations

By Polly Ticks

The English Language Amendment (ELA) has been reintroduced in both Houses of Congress. First sponsored in 1981 by former Senator Hayakawa, The ELA was reintroduced in 1983 and again this year. Senate hearings were held in June 1984. Senator Steve Symms (R-ID) is the sponsor of Senate Joint Resolution 20, along with ten other Senators. The S.J. Res. reads:

"Section 1. The English Language shall be the official language of the United States.

Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

In his introductory remarks, Senator Symms told his colleagues: "The American people are impatient with us. All around them they see the results of the language policies Congress has imposed, policies that challenge the uniqueness of English in our national life. We removed the heat from the melting pot, and the melting seems to have very nearly stopped. Many Americans now feel like strangers in their own neighborhoods, aliens in their own country." Symms, referring the "ELA" acronym, urged the Senators to "remember it, for they will encounter it often in their constituent mail."

The House version of the ELA was introduced by Congressman

Norman Shumway (R-CA) and 20 co-sponsors. Known as House Joint Resolution 96, it is some what longer than the Senate bill, and the basic difference is Section 3, which reads: This article shall not prohibit any law, ordinance, regulation, order, decree, program, or policy requiring educational instruction in a language other than English, for the purpose of making students who use a language other than English, for the purpose of making students who use a language other than English, proficient in English.

It will be interesting to see if congress, with so many major pieces of legislation to consider, will also take up this source of aggravation for many voters. It is apparent from the fact that amendments or resolutions have been introduced in both houses, that some congressmen are listening to the "folks at home".

Waller Fest

The kids enjoyed the carnival rides and games, and the older folks seemed to be having fun, just strolling around the grounds, hearing the pitches of the vendors, sampling the wares of the eateries, and trying their luck at the games available.

The chamber reports that the festival was a whopping success, and plans are already being laid for next year's Waller Fest '86, when it will be even bigger and better than this year's efforts, if that's possible.

The chamber is grateful for the hundreds of people who pitched in to do the tremendous amount of work involved in an effort of this scope, and to the folks who rented booths and participated, thus making Waller Fest '85 the greatest festival ever, so far.

The folks who are developing Waller Villiage, our new shopping center, are to be thanked for hosting the event, and giving so generously of their time money and labor, to insure it's success. Nash-Phillips, Copus invited the Chamber to use their entire facility, including the large paved parking lot, and the unoccupied store areas, so that there would be plenty of room for everyone wanting to participate. They also footed the bill for the 60'x120' tent used for the booths, not to mention a large cash donation to the chamber, to make sure there were enough funds to finance the operation.

Yes, Waller Fest '85 is history, but the successful experience has everyone looking forward to 1986, when we can do it all again.

Friends of Youth

to cover the costs incurred by the young person for his or her efforts.

The idea was conceived during the 1983 fair, and the organization got started during 1984, prior to the fair. The membership consists of folks who want to help, and to participate, and who may not have the financial clout to buy an animal themselves, but by banding together, they realize that they can be a force for good, in helping the earnings at the Junior Sale to fairly represent the costs involved in entering such an event.

Their by-laws begin with the following statement of purpose: "The Friends of Youth is a local, non-profit organization, made up of concerned citizens and businesses who each pool their resources in order to help the Waller County youth at the annual Waller County Fair auction. The Friends of Youth, organized in 1983, is comprised of individuals who do not wish to purchase a 4-H, FFA, or FHA project alone, or who are financially unable to do so. In the Friends of Youth, the monies are collected and distributed to several projects during the livestock sale. Each year, approximately one-half of the money collected during the year is used to increase the sale price for many of the youngsters' projects that have sold at a loss or near break-even price. The unused funds collected during the year are placed into an interest bearing account to help with future sales."

The group holds a barbeque sale every month, at a different city in the county, to give the local folks the opportunity to participate by purchasing food & cokes. A quick peek at the savings book indicates that there is nearly $7,000.00 in the account so far this year, and it is hoped that the total will be near $15,000.00 by fairtime. They spent about $5,500.00 at last year's fair.

If this organization sounds like one where you could enjoy serving Waller County young people, perhaps you could contact one of the club's officers, and find out how you can get involved. They are: Robert Fife Chairperson/Treasurer, David McGregor-Vice Chairperson, Peggy Randolph-Secretary, and George Bennett-Delegate to Waller County Fair Association Board. The governing committee, in addition to the above, consists of Lou Berger, Kenneth Berger, Bill Pickering, Floyd Randolph, Harold McMullin, Sue McMullin, Jim Royce, Edmond Brzymailkiewicz, Mrs. Ollie Reed, Peggy Kelly, and Bonnie Yates.

Give one of them a call, and get busy helping the Waller County Friends of Youth. You'll be glad you did.

Little Britches To Sponsor Program

Tri-County Little Britches will be sponsoring a summer riding program at the Waller County Fairgrounds.

The first get-together will take place at 7:30 PM on Monday, June 10th, and will continue every Monday evening for six weeks. There will be three age groups involved; 8 and under, 9 through 14, and 15 through 19.

On the 7th week, there will be the awarding of prizes for the work that the participants have completed.

It will cost $5.00 per family to register, with an additional charge of $2.00 per event, and this is an excellent way for young people to get involved with the Little Britches organization, and to develop the skills necessary to compete successfully in their rodeos.

There is plenty of room for additional participants, so give Dorothy Kersh a call at 372-3396, and plan to sign up for six weeks of fun and games, Little Britches style.

4-H'ers Heading For State Roundup

Project Tejas has been organized to send Texas whole grains and powdered milk directly from Texans to the people of the famine belt of Africa. People will die if they do not receive food immediately. The Texas Department of Agriculture is taking the lead role in this particular project of which 100% of all funds donated will be used for food, according to Tony Dooley with the Texas Department of Agriculture, Brenham, Texas.

This message was conveyed in a short program, presented by Mr. Dooley, to the Waller County Adult Leaders and Parents Association and 4-H Council meeting on May 20. To support this project the Leaders and Parents Association, 4-H Council, Monaville, Rock Island, Bracy Island, Macedonia 4-H Club and David, McGregor gave donations towards this needed cause.

Anyone wishing to donate to this cause may mail their tax deductible donation to: The Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12009, Austin, Texas 78711. You may also mail your check to the ASCS office c/o Donald Boehnke, 519 9th Street, Hempstead, Texas 77445.

Waller Mayor Addresses Area Chamber of Commerce

Danny Marburger, Waller Mayor, addressed the Waller Area Chamber of Commerce on May 28th, regarding the operation of the City of Waller. He stated that he wanted to inform the group of "what the City of Waller has done, what we are doing, and what we hope to do in the future".

Mr. Marburger covered a wide range of topics, from budgetary items and sewer problems, to police protection and future growth of the city. "This city", he said, "has a budget of over a million dollars a year, and that's not small business. We are constantly faced with the responsibility of spending the taxpayers' money wisely, and there are certain obligations which we must meet on a regular basis". He cited the payments on the existing bonds to which the city is obligated, such as that which paid for the replacement of the gas system a few years back, and the large bond issue passed last year by the voters. bond payments cost us $71,000.00 every six months for the new bond payment, and $14,000 for the gas system bond."

Our full time labor force of six men handles everything from utility maintenance, meter reading, road repair and trash & limb pickup, to installing and repairing our stop signs, and doing whatever necessary services people call in and ask us to perform. There are three full time people working in City Hall, handling the administrative tasks required to run this city," he explained, "and five full time policemen to patrol the area and enforce the laws." The mayor believes that the Police Department is the biggest single problem that he has had to face as mayor. "It's not the fault of either the police or the people, but whenever you have police responding to a domestic problem, you will please one and anger the other, or upset some one when they are stopped for violating the traffic laws, etc., and this causes lots of complaints, justified or not," he said. "We feel that we want to take the responsibility for our own law enforcement, and the city is growing fast, so keeping a well-trained force of police is a natural problem."

"Just a few years ago we didn't even have a police department, and it has had its ups & downs, but we feel as though we are on the right track to building an effective staff of police and dispatchers to handle our workload." "We now maintain the city library, which we feel is serving the people well, and we have had to add a City Judge to hear the complaints of our citizens, as our growing population simply has more legal problems than we use to face," said Marburger, "and we have to have a municipal court secretary to handle all of the paperwork. These things all take dollars, taxpayer dollars, and the taxpayers simply must realize that we cannot perform these needed services without adequate funds to pay for them." "We now have a city Engineer, City Attorney, and a building inspector, all on retainer on a fee basis".

The mayor then displayed a series of maps, showing the outer limits of how far the city can grow, where the highways will run, and future plans for growth. He showed the group the subdivision ordinance now in force, explaining how it will protect the city from having to make unreasonable investments in new growth areas, while still allowing the investors to recoup their expenses at a later date.

"The single biggest problem facing us here in the Waller area today, is where we are going to dump our garbage", the mayor said. "Our landfill is about full, and will have to be closed soon, and we simply do not have any place to go. We are trying to solve this problem, but as of today, we don't have the answers. Nobody wants a garbage dump near their place, and I don't blame them, but we have to solve the problem

He told the group about the new water tower scheduled to be built behind the Lion's Center, then asked everyone to consider joining the Volunteer Fire Department and Ambulance Service. "We have a few dedicated people who have been carrying this load for years, but they need help. The more people we have involved in these efforts, the better off the city will be," he said.

The mayor said that the city has just completed a $450,000 water well, which will provide 700 GPM of water to the city. "At the present, we have only 50,000 gallons of overhead water storage, but the new tower will be a big one, carrying 250,000 gallons of water. Our sewer repair project is coming along nicely, but we face some major changes to our sewer plant, to handle the increased loads being generated by our growing population."

In general, the mayor feels that the city council is doing a pretty good job of coping with the city's growth problems, while planning for the future, and he expressed appreciation for the support and understanding of the local residents.

The mayor concluded his talk by observing that "we're just an area of good people trying to do the right thing, and I'm proud to be a part of it."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I want to send one "attaboy" to the Sheriff's Department of Waller County, for the courtesy and help extended to me last week.

I was stuck out on FM 1488, with a flat tire, and I watched cars go by for 45 minutes before Officer Glenn White came along. He rushed to help me, so that my cat & I wouldn't have to endure the heat for too long, and helped me get the tire changed. I'm a 100 lb. Grandma, and I couldn't get the job done alone, so I really appreciate what he did for me.

You hear so much about things that Peace Officers do wrong, and seldom hear about the wonderful services they render to all of us everyday. I just wanted to let everyone know that I have found a "gem" of a gentleman, and I truly appreciate it.

The Friends of Youth Barbecue was held on Saturday, May 25th, at the Railroad tracks across from the City Hall in Hempstead. The sale was very successful. We would like to thank all those that contributed to this event. All proceeds from this event go towards helping 4-H, FFA, or FHA members that exhibit projects in the Waller County Fair.

The Friends of Youth is a local, non-profit organization made up of concerned citizens and businesses who each pool their resources in order to help the Waller County Youth at the annual Waller County Fair & Auction. The organization sometimes known as Friends, was organized in 1983. The purpose is to help individuals who do wish to participate in the Fair but are financially unable to purchase a project. The monies we collect are distributed to several projects during the event. The unused funds are placed into an interest bearing account to help with the future sales or events.

A special "thank you" to the following for their help on Saturday morning: the City of Waller Police Department; Rod Leggett, Constable; Kent McGowan with the Harris County Sheriff's Department; Tim Friedel and David Schmidt with the Waller Volunteer Ambulance Service. Last, but certainly not least, our workers: Terri Cook, Patsy Chernosky, James Brown, and Dan Wilson.

Mary Pegg was the female winner, running 15:38. Kathleen Baskin of Waller placed second. 9 year old Angela Duffin of Katy placed third. Congratulations to these winners!
