☆ TODAY'S GAME ☆

Today is for the old grads.

It's homecoming on the hill. The annual celebration with the football game between Arkansas-Pine Bluff and Prairie View the culmination of a week long of festivities and plans and dreams "on the hill!"

With a "Quest for Quality" coming from acting President Dr. Ivory Nelson to the homecoming motto of "With Pride — We Will Succeed" thousands and thousands of Prairie View alumni and friends celebrate the 1982 homecoming.

And the football game matches the Golden Lions of Pine Bluff, Ark. against the Panthers of Prairie View.

The Golden Lions enter today's contest with consecutive victories over Kentucky State (32-10) and Langston, Okla. (34-18) while the Panthers will be trying to break a two-game losing streak.

Prairie View dropped a narrow 13-14 decision at Mississippi Valley's homecoming last week while Arkansas-Pine Bluff was having a fine time celebrating its homecoming with a 34-18 victory over Langston.

Panther leaders this season are Byron Holmes, a 200-pound senior fullback, tops in rushing with 448 yards on 92 carries.

Sophomore Darryl Terral is the leading passer with 265 yards in eight games.

The favorite target of Terral and senior quarterback Maurice Mitchell has been freshman Roland Ratliff from Waco. Ratliff has hung onto 12 passes for 184 yards and turned three of them into touchdowns.

Steve Bennett leads the team in punt returns and kickoff returns while Norman Briscoe's 37.3 punting average ranks among the Southwestern Athletic Conference's best.

Dr. Ivory V. Nelson, a career educator with impressive credentials, officially assumed his new post of acting president of Prairie View A&M University on June 1, 1982.

Formerly serving as vice president for Research and Special Programs, Dr. Nelson was named by the Texas A&M University Board of Regents to replace Dr. Alvin I. Thomas.

He joined the staff of Prairie View A&M University in 1968 as Professor and Academic Dean of University and three years later was named to the position he held when the Board of Regents tapped him.

After graduation from high school in Shreveport, Louisiana in 1951, the young chemist and math major entered Grambling State University where he received his B.S. then on to the University of Kansas where he received his Ph.D.

NCAA: Serving Higher Education

Now in its 77th year of service, the National Collegiate Athletic Association continues to meet the demands of its member institutions. While serving the nation's colleges and universities, the NCAA is the voice of intercollegiate athletics.

A call for stricter control of college football by President Theodore Roosevelt because of the violence in the game brought together 13 institutions in 1905, formulating the original communication base for college athletics.

This initial body called itself the Intercollegiate Athletic Association and was officially constituted March 31, 1906. In 1910, the name was changed to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

More than seven progressive decades have molded this original 13-member body into a membership today of more than 900 colleges, universities, conferences and affiliated organizations.

Administration and rules interpretation occupied early efforts of the organization. Shortly after World War II, the NCAA adopted legislative and executive powers, changing its function into one dealing with virtually all issues concerned with intercollegiate athletics.

Many things have become associated with the NCAA during its colorful history. Highest priority goes to the service it provides to its members, acting as the true "voice" of college athletics today.

Each January the NCAA membership comes together at the annual Convention to review, propose and amend legislation. The Convention presents the opportunity for the nation's institutions of higher learning to speak and act on athletic matters on the national level.

Acting in the best interests of its membership, the NCAA strives to perform these specific functions among its many other responsibilities:

- Conducts 42 annual National Collegiate Championships in 19 men's sports for three separate divisions. Three championships (Division I, Division II and Division III) are held in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, swimming, tennis, outdoor track and wrestling. Two championships are staged in gymnastics, lacrosse and ice hockey. Fencing, rifle, skiing, indoor track, volleyball and water polo hold single National Collegiate Championships, while football is contested in Divisions I-AA, II and III. The NCAA is conducting 31 women's championships in the 1982-83 academic year in addition to the 42 held for men. Women's championships will be held in all three divisions in basketball, cross country, field hockey, softball, swimming, tennis, outdoor track and volleyball. Two championships (Division I and Division II) will be staged in gymnastics, while fencing, golf, lacrosse, soccer and indoor track will hold single National Collegiate Championships. The National Collegiate Championship dates back to 1883 in tennis; and during this 100-year history, more than 13,000 student-athletes have earned the coveted title of "National Collegiate Champion."

- Maintains 23 men's sports committees, including 14 men's rules committees to formulate, copyright and publish rules of play for the government of collegiate sports. Members of these and many other committees, including 16 women's sports/rules committees, are elected by representatives of member institutions at the annual Convention.

- Publishes a tabloid newspaper 46 times per year, rules books in 12 sports, record books in football and basketball and various other publications.

- Collects, compiles and distributes the official statistics of college football, basketball and baseball in men's sports, and basketball and softball in women's sports.

- Conducts studies as a means of developing solutions to athletic problems.

- Represents the membership in legislative and regulatory matters on the state and Federal levels.

- Annually selects the College Athletics Top Ten and the Theodore Roosevelt ("Teddy") Award—the Association's highest honor.

- Administers an honors program which annually awards 90 postgraduate scholarships to recognize outstanding senior student-athletes who have excelled in the classroom as well as athletics. This scholarship is for $2,000. The program has provided $1,784,000 to 1,354 recipients since its inception in the 1964-65 academic year.

- Promotes and participates in international sports planning and competition through membership in the United States Olympic Committee, Amateur Basketball Association of the USA, Track and Field Association of the USA, and the United States Baseball, Gymnastics and Wrestling Federations.

- Maintains more than 80 full-time staff members at its national headquarters in Mission, Kansas, under the supervision of Executive Director Walter Byers.

Even the sound of the door closing is by design.

Our doors speak well of the rest of our car. But their tight, solid sound is no accident.

Before we begin building the car, we engineer the best way to assemble it. Piece by piece.

Doors, trunk and hood fit the body with close tolerances all around. We align hinges and latches to work freely.

Window glass is held snug. And runs in the window channels smoothly. Triple rubber door seals help reduce outside sounds and wind noise. We've improved the insulation throughout the car.

The Honda Accord 4-Door Sedan is not only quieter, it's also roomier and more comfortable. You'll find it rides and handles better.

And while its many luxurious features are impressive, they are standard equipment. Like cruise control and variable-assist power steering, to name but two.

Honda's simple philosophy of building cars that work the way they were designed to work has made Honda number one in owner loyalty among all leading import cars*.

It has helped Honda cars retain a high resale value, among the best in the automotive industry.

You can fully appreciate how a Honda is made the next time you're in a Honda showroom.

After you kick the tires, listen to the doors.

We make it simple.

NCAA Honor Roll

Program recognizes past, present student-athletes

Bill Cosby, five current student-athletes and five former student-athletes were honored at this year's NCAA honors luncheon held during the Association's 76th annual Convention in Houston in January.

Cosby received the NCAA's highest honor, the Theodore Roosevelt Award. The award is named for the 26th President of the United States, who was the individual most responsible for implementing the organization of the NCAA.

While attending Temple University, Cosby participated in track and field, basketball and football. Although he was a second-string fullback in football, his best sport was track. A versatile performer, he scored at various times in the high jump, shot put, low hurdles, javelin and discus. He also won the Middle Atlantic Conference high jump title in 1962.

The "Teddy" is presented annually to a prominent American "for whom competitive athletics in college and attention to physical well-being thereafter have been important factors in a distinguished career of national significance and achievement."

Previous winners include former President Dwight D. Eisenhower; Senator Leverett Saltonstall; Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White; Purdue University President Frederick L. Hovde; Jerome H. Holland, ambassador to Sweden and last year's winner, Art Linkletter.

Also honored at the luncheon were five current and past student-athletes.

The NCAA recognized five outstanding student-athletes who completed their college eligibility in 1981. Two football players, two swimmers and a women's basketball player were honored.

Ken Sims, a defensive tackle for the University of Texas, was the winner of the Lombardi Award in 1981, emblematic of the outstanding lineman. Sims also was named to an all-America team for the third straight year.

Oliver Luck, a quarterback at West Virginia University, accumulated 6,150 yards of total offense during his career, a WVU record, and led the Mountaineers to a 9-3 record and Peach Bowl win in 1981. Luck is a two-time academic all-America and a National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete.

The two swimmers honored were Par

Arvidsson of the University of California and Rowdy Gaines of Auburn University. Arvidsson captured a gold medal at the 1980 Olympics while competing for his native Sweden and is the world-record holder in the 100-meter butterfly. Gaines was a member of the U.S. Olympic team and won five NCAA individual swimming championships.

The first woman to receive a Today's Top Five award was Lynette Woodard, a basketball standout at the University of Kansas. Woodard set a national career scoring record of 3,646 points during four years as a Jayhawk and was a three-time all-America selection.

Silver Anniversary awards were presented to five former student-athletes who have accomplished distinguished careers. They were honored on their 25th anniversary after college graduation.

All five played football and three of the five also played basketball.

Jimmy Brown is recognized as one of the greatest players in the history of football, but also starred in basketball and lacrosse at Syracuse University. Brown went on to the NFL and since retiring has enjoyed an excellent career in acting.

A two-time captain of the Grambling Tigers, Willie Davis went on to greater fame with the Green Bay Packers. Davis played on five world championship teams and never missed a game. Davis currently owns the Willie Davis Distributing Company and is a member of the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company board of directors.

Jack Kemp was an all-America at Occidental College and went on to quarterback the Buffalo Bills to AFL championships in 1964 and 1965. His jersey—No. 15—is retired in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Kemp is currently a member of the U.S. Congress from the state of New York.

Another Green Bay Packer great, Ron Kramer, was a football and basketball star at the University of Michigan. Kramer caught 53 passes from his tight end position in college and led the Wolverines in scoring in basketball his junior and senior years. Kramer is currently vice-president of Paragon Steel Corporation.

The final honoree was Jim Swink, former Texas Christian University running back. Swink is the only TCU player to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season. Swink also was a two-year letterman in basketball. He is currently an orthopedic surgeon and chief of surgery at All Saints Hospital in Fort Worth.
