☆ TONIGHT'S GAME ☆

The Panthers entertain the Alabama State Hornets tonight in their first gridiron test since the Alabama team joined the Southwest Athletic Conference. The two teams' last meeting was back in 1931, and PV was the winner.

Both teams will be looking for their first victory of the 1984 season. His fourth year coaching at State, Jim Parker is banking on several key linemen, both on offensive and defense, to spark the team in a must-win situation to avoid the final spot in the SWAC ranks. PV's first year head coach Conway Hayman has similar goals including the hope of breaking the Panther's losing streak and a start on the long, hard climb upward.

Watch for a tough, hard fought battle between the Panthers and the Alabama State Hornets.

National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame

Since the College Football Hall of Fame opened in August 1978, it has appealed to people of all ages with just about every interest imaginable . . . people who like movies, sports, computer games, American history, modern museums, great athletes, colorful displays, nostalgia, memorabilia, stirring speeches, cheerleaders, marching bands, Saturday afternoons in the fall and college football.

When the Hall of Fame was dedicated in August 1978, "Red" Blaik was the keynote speaker. He spoke to the crowd on behalf of all Hall of Famers and said,

"This is the best happening in college football since the legalization of the forward pass." His comment exemplifies the excitement that awaits college football fans who visit the shrine and the experience that already has been enjoyed by thousands.

The College Football Hall of Fame is not only a place to see, learn and participate in the history of football, but a place to get to know the game as it is today. From its one-eighth mile long Time Tunnel, which traces the 2,000-year development of the game from ancient Greece to the present in more than 30 time capsules, to the Hall of Fame Room where each of the Hall of Famers are honored, to its futuristic use of computer terminals that allow the visitor to match wits with the great coaches or to call up the biographies of every Hall of Famer, the museum can and does bring the total college football experience to life. Its personalized approach and action-oriented attractions have intrigued all who have visited. As "Sleepy" Jim Crowley, one of the Notre Dame Four Horsemen, simply said, "This Hall of Fame is not in the telling or talking about, it's in the seeing."

Galbreath Field

The National Collegiate Division III Football Championship (Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl) moved to the College Football Hall of Fame's Galbreath Field in 1983. Augustana College (Illinois) came from behind for an exciting 21-17 victory over Union College (New York).

This year's championship again will be played at Galbreath Field on Saturday, December 8. The Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl will mark the culmination of a three-week, 16-team national play-off among the nation's most outstanding small college football teams. Every aspect of the play-off is under the administration of the NCAA Division III Football Committee.

Galbreath Field is a 10,000-seat stadium located immediately adjacent to the College Football Hall of Fame at Kings Island, Ohio. The first intercollegiate game was played at Galbreath Field on September 12, 1981, between Ashland College and the University of Dayton.

An Important Message on Proposition 2

On November 6, 1984, the voters of Texas will be asked to approve a Constitutional Amendment, Proposition 2, which is critical to Prairie View A&M University in particular and public higher education in Texas in general. The ballot language reads as follows:

FOR OR AGAINST . . .

The Constitutional Amendment created from general revenue a special higher education assistance fund for construction and related activities, to restructure the Permanent University Fund, and to increase the number of institutions eligible to benefit from the Permanent University Fund.

Proposition 2 establishes a new constitutionally dedicated fund for all public four year institutions outside the University of Texas and Texas A&M University Systems. At the same time, it broadens participation in the bonding program of the Permanent University Fund to include all UT and A&M Units. With its passage, all public senior colleges and universities will have dedicated funding to meet urgent needs for construction, repair and rehabilitation of existing facilities, and purchase of equipment, library books and materials.

This Constitutional Amendment provides the classrooms, libraries, laboratories, and educational equipment so vital to Texas students and our future.

It has widespread support from faculty members, administrators, students and others in higher education, as well as from both political parties and many public officials. The governing boards of all public universities have endorsed it.

It is essential that all alumni, friends and supporters of Prairie View A&M University understand the significance of this proposition.

Please consider its importance when you cast your ballot on November 6, 1984.
