NEGRO ACHIEVEMENT DAY STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

The now famous Prairie View-Wiley football games started 21 years ago as an idea from Prairie View. As a results of the Classic Negro Achievement Day was set aside in order to draw interest and set this occasion aside as one of the biggest events in the Southwest.

Approximately 1500 attended the first game, and this small beginning has grown into a mammoth affair with students and teachers converging from every point in the state.

The Dallas Negro Chamber of Commerce sponsors a number of activities during the day including the parade featuring Miss Prairie View, a baby contest, parade, choir contest, declaration and other activities.

The Fair itself is an educational institution - the largest State Fair in the nation.
