G AND FINALLY -

In the serious and thoughtful discussions of problems, usually a ray of hope is seen and likely a way out is discovered. One hour of intelligent discussion and deliberation gives a more beneficial and substantial return than a year of whinning, complaining and fault finding. There is no human problem, however grave and complicated, that cannot be solved by human beings, if the proper approach and attack are made at the right time.

Yours truly,

W R Banks
Principal
