YOUR WEEK

Our Thanksgiving Challenge!

Every year we have a day set aside as Thanksgiving Day. Each of us in his own way attempts to give thanks for the numerous blessings that are ours to be blessed with during the year. This year we assembled on November 24 to participate in a Thanksgiving Day Service and along with the usual entreaties to give thanks, we were challenged to live up to the best that is in us and let our everyday living be much stronger and more forceful than any verbal thanks could be.

How do we expect to meet that challenge? I'll tell you how! We who are thankful for the privilege of possessing minds that can conceive of the idea of God and subsequently, the greatness and smallness of ourselves, will meet this challenge squarely. Living in a world where the forces of good and evil are in battle, we will face the challenge in spite of all the shortcomings of ourselves and our world, and make our world a better one, each beginning with himself.
