THE PRICE OF SUCCESS

I often wonder what it is that brings one man success in life and what it is that brings mediocrity or failure to his brother. The difference can't be in mental capacity; there is no difference in our mental capacities indicated by the difference in performance. In short, I have reached the conclusion that some men succeed because they cheerfully pay the price of success, and others, though they may claim ambition and a desire to succeed, are unwilling to pay that price.

And the price is — to use all your courage to force yourself to concentrate on the problem in hand, to think of it deeply and constantly, to study it from all angles, and to plan to accomplish, not if circumstances be favorable to its accomplishment, but in spite of all adverse circumstances which may arise --and nothing worthwhile has ever been accomplished without some obstacles having been overcome: To refuse to believe that there are any circumstances sufficiently strong to defeat you in the accomplishment of your purpose.

Hard? I should say so. That's why so many men never attempt to acquire success, answer the siren call of the rut and remain on the beaten paths that are for beaten men.

That's the price of success as I see it. And I believe every man should ask himself:

Am I willing to endure the pain of this struggle for the comforts and the rowards and glory that go with achievement? Or shall I accept the uneasy and inadequate contentment that comes with mediocrity?

Am I willing to pay the price of success? And the time to begin to pay is NOW.
