Enrollment of Women Up in Engineering

By Matthew A. Shoyebo

The enrollment of women into the Prairie View A&M University's College of Engineering for the 1978-79 School Year shows an increase of 22 women over 1977-78 School Year. This number also reflects a positive change in the attitude of women toward engineering as a viable career choice.

According to Dean A. E. Greaux, Dean of College of Engineering here, the thrust to increase the number of women being recruited into engineering during the past five years has shown a consistent growth pattern for the College of Engineering. Of significance also, is the reduction of attrition among women in the engineering program here. This has led to an increase in the number of women graduating in Engineering. Last year, Prairie View accounted for 18 young women who graduated in engineering.

Out of 716 students enrolled in the College of Engineering, 160 of these students are women. This represents 22.35% of the total population in Engineering.

"These figures demonstrate the success of our recruiting effort in Engineering. It also depicts the acceptance of the program by the total community and the overall success of the program," said Dean Greaux.

Dean Greaux concluded that these numbers, he is certain represent another national first for engineering at Prairie View A&M University.

New Degree Program Sought for PVA&M

The Texas A&M University System Board of regents last week authorized Texas A&M and Prairie View A&M University to seek approval of the Coordinator Board, Texas College and University System for new degree programs. Texas A&M is requesting new bachelor of science degree programs in mining engineering and political science.

Prairie View will petition for new degree programs in industrial engineering and chemical engineering and a master of science degree in engineering.

In other business the regents awarded contracts totaling more than $26 million for additional facilities and space for state agencies headquartered at College Station.

The regents also awarded three other contracts for projects at Galveston, Sonora and Stephenville. LEM Construction Co. of Stafford received a $294,639 contract for a parking lot at the new classroom-laboratory building at Moody College in Galveston. A meeting facility will be added to the Texas A&M Agricultural Research Station at Sonora under a $164,176 contract with Wilbur L. Brown Contractor of San Angelo. Tarleton State University will gain a new horse management laboratory under a $94,700 contract awarded to Phillip Hale Construction Co. of Stephenville.

All-Faiths Chapel Drive Moving Ahead

According to Rev. W. Van Johnson, Dean of the Chapel, the All-Faith Chapel Drive is moving along very successfully.

The grand total of gifts and pledges is presently at $95,547.51.

The next issue of the Panther will carry a complete breakdown of gifts and pledges.

Notice!!!

All persons interested in joining the '79 yearbook staff should come-by the university information and publication office, located in the Teachers Center, Room 112 and register. Work on the 1979 yearbook will commence soon.

Centennial Yearbook Is Colorful Edition

Thousands of 1978 Pantherlands, the Centennial Edition of Prairie View A&M University Yearbook arrived on campus last week and has since being on distribution to students enrolled in 1977-78 school year.

The colorful yearbook carried a great deal of historical data, particularly involving student activities and also recognizes the early developments, the growth and progress of the institution during its first 100 years.

Matthew Shoyebo, the Editor-in-Chief of the Yearbook and the staffs who worked so hard on the book are so much pleased with the outcome of the book as well as the favorable response from the entire students body regarding the colorful book.

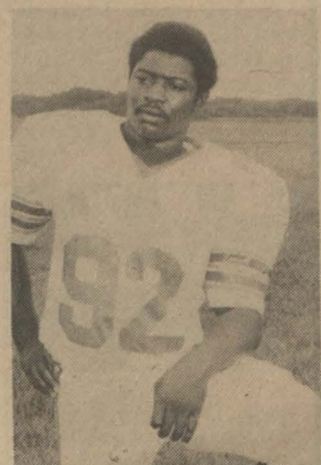

Cowan Named to All-SWAC Football Team

James Cowan, 6'2" 230 lbs. defensive end was the only Panther named to the 1978 all Southwestern Athletic Conference football team.

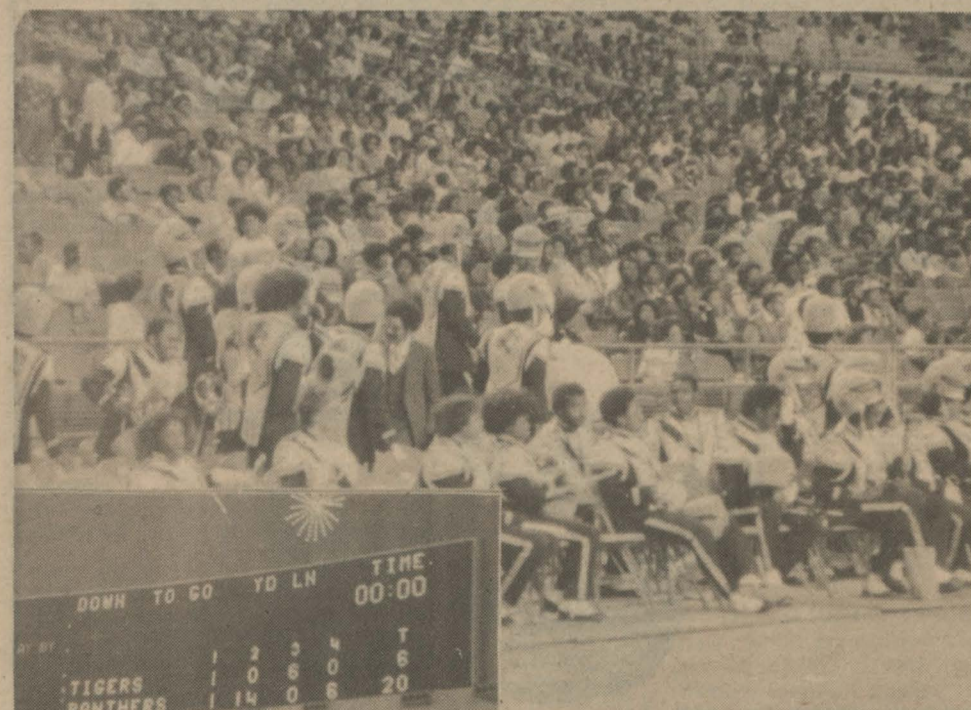

The selection was made by the coaches of the seven schools within the conference and compiled at Mississippi Valley State University.

Prairie View A&M is among the super seven in the Southwestern Athletic Conference football team which has long been known for its defensive players and this squad is loaded, and headed by 6'2" 250 lbs. tackle Robert Hardy and 6'2" 175 lbs. free safety Anthony Young both of Jackson State. Rounding out the front five are: William Kinward (6'6" 270 lbs. Mississippi Valley), James Cowan (6'2" 230 lbs. Prairie View), Willanther Jackson (6'3" 230 lbs. Alcorn) and Ken Times (6'3" 240 lbs. Southern University).

PV Forensics Team Scores At SWTS Speech Event

The Prairie View Forensics team just returned from a Speech Communication events festival at S.W. Texas State University having placed in the upper quarter — 10th place among the forty-one colleges represented.

Representing Prairie View A&M University at the San Marcos Tourney were Alvin Baker, Claudia Sams, Henrietta Easley, Twyla Harris, Dixie Turner, Randy Murphy, Mike Fields, Jack Thompson, Darlena Wright, and Aaron Johnson.

The good showing was high-lighted by eleven individual awards given to Prairie View students. The highest ranking, "Superior," went to Henrietta Easley and Claudia Sams in Dramatic Oral Interpretation, to Aaron Johnson and Henrietta Easley in Prose Oral Interpretation, and to Randy Murphy in Persuasive Speaking.

"Excellent" awards were won by Jack Thompson in Persuasive Speaking, Dixie Turner in Original Poetry Oral Interpretation, Twyla Harris in Prose Oral Interpretation, Claudia Sams and Darlena Wright in Poetry Oral Interpretation. Darlena Wright also won an Excellent Award in Dramatic Oral Interpretation.

The Forensics coaches and sponsors, Dr. M. F. Eiland and Professor W. Curtis, indicated they were very proud of the record the Forensics team accomplished at this second tourney of the academic year. The group plans to go to at least two tournies in the Spring; they would welcome new

Brass Quintet Sets Recital Thurs., Dec. 7

The Department of Music will present the Prairie View A&M University Brass Quintet in a recital, Thursday, December 7th. The group will perform original brass music ranging from the late Renaissance to pieces composed in the 1970's.

The program will begin with "Sonata No. 2" by Johann Pezel and will proceed chronologically to culminate with "Pop Suite" by Arthur Frakenpohl. In addition to the all-brass selections on the program, Dr. Danny Kelley will be featured as organist on a composition entitled "Three Movements for Organ and Brass" by Vaclav Nelhybel. Dr. Kelley is a Prairie View graduate and is currently chairman of the keyboard department at Prairie View.

Since its organization in the spring of this year, the quintet has performed in the interest of public relations and recruitment at the State Convention of the Texas Personnel and Guidance Association in Austin and in the public schools of Beaumont, Houston, Austin and Port Arthur. The group also maintains a busy schedule of school service performances in and around Prairie View.

The program is scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m. and will be held in the recital hall of the Hobart Taylor Building.

Alumni Hall Advisory Council Organized

The Alumni Hall Advisory Council has been organized and is functioning. The purpose of this council is to represent the Student Body in the functions of Alumni Hall.

Some functions of the Council are:

1. Plan and implement activities and programs in Alumni Hall.
2. Make your visits to Alumni Hall more enjoyable.
3. Serve as a liaison between the students and the Management of the Food Service Department.

Ford Motor Co. Exec. on Lecture Circuit Here

Eric L. Stokes, Research Scientist Supervisor with Ford Motor Company in Dearborn, Michigan, served as a visiting professor at Prairie View University on November 29-30. Stokes lectured in an advertising class sponsored by the National Urban League's Black Executive Exchange Program (BEEP).

BEEP, now in its Tenth Anniversary Year, is offering credit-bearing courses in various business and scientific disciplines this Fall 1978 semester to 30 traditionally black colleges and universities. Each week, professional black men and women from across the country are sent to these schools by their companies and government agencies to supplement academic theory with their on-the-job know-how and to serve as success models to participating students.

At Ford Motor Company's Technical Services Division, Stokes, a native of Massachusetts, is in charge of an analytical group which functions primarily as a problem solver to all research organizations in the scientific laboratories and other components of the company.

A Biology and Chemistry graduate of Northeastern University, Stokes earned his Ph.D. in Science at the University of Missouri. Prior to assuming his present position, he was affiliated with the Western Electric Company.

The Bakke Decision:

Implications for the Black Collegian

With the recent Bakke decision, many aspiring, young black scholars gave a sign of relief. Young blacks were tense because of the possible abolishment of affirmative action, which has served as the vehicle of entry for minorities into the graduate schools of America. The idea that persisted was that if the decision declared affirmative action unconstitutional, the doors to America's top institutions would be closed; or to put it simply, without affirmative actions, blacks could not get into the top graduate schools in the country. But what does this imply? The implication is that the black population is not capable of generating a scholar who can compete with the white scholar and that in order for blacks to enter the universities, a system of duality must persist.

This implication should not be accepted or go unchallenged by the black student today. The idea that blacks cannot meet standards set by leading universities must be attacked with a tenacity never seen before. What is the plan of attack? The answer lies within the black student body. The goal of each student, as well as black colleges, should be preparing to meet the standards. At the basis of this preparation, there must be a dedication to scholarship and an insatiable desire for knowledge and achievement instead of the present insatiable desire for the party life. Now is the time for the Black collegian to seriously look at the implications behind affirmative action and take steps to make such implications a joke.

Panther Editor Elected President Of Student Group

At their general meeting last week, the P.V. International Students Organization voted Mr. Matthew A. Shoyebo into power to run for second term in the office as the President of this Foreign Student Association.

In his acceptance message to the members present, the new President, Mr. Shoyebo told the students that his interest in the reorganization of the International Students Organization is more than academic since our destinies are inextricably joined together. He added that the

Reflections of AKA

The sorors of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority would like to congratulate the neophytes of all the Greek sororities and fraternities here on Prairie View's campus.

Congratulations to the new members of Delta Sigma Theta, Zeta Phi Beta, and a special congratulations to the new members of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority.

Congratulations to the new members of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. They are Bennie Smith, Jimmy Williams, Don Turnquest, Michael Jackson, and Ricky Gaines. Also congratulations go to the neophytes of Omega Psi Phi, and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternities.

The Greeks here at Prairie View should be proud of their new members, and especially proud of the brotherhood exemplified among all Greeks on campus. Respect for one another is the most important quality in the world and we think it is certainly displayed through actions of our fellow Greeks.

The sorors of AKA recently sponsored a can food drive for Thanksgiving. The goods were given to the family of Miss Cleo Wolf of Hempstead and is the mother of 10 children.

AKA certainly hopes your Thanksgiving was an enjoyable one and wishes you many more. God bless you.

How to Become Successful

By JoAnn Alderson

When one speaks of success he is generally speaking on the subject of how to succeed. Success for the most part takes a great deal of work. If your goal is to succeed than your duty is to work and work hard.

Aims, Objective and Purpose of the International Students Organization, among which is to foster the spirit of brotherly and sister love of all members, to live, work and share with those who may be of other races or cultures, in the spirit of mutual fellowship and acceptance, must be upheld.

Mr. Shoyebo appeal to the members to cooperate with him in order to enhance the good name and image of our Institution and that of our Home Countries.

Other members elected into the Office are: Jack Thompson, vice-president; Frank Chamumokwa, secretary; Mr. Jackolis, treasurer and Lafo Olateru, publicity secretary.

By Lafo Olateru

Succeeding is a process that requires an important image. If one can project you as a positive image, then you are on your way to success. But success itself does not stop with positive images. You have to build up yourselves with a positive attitude that you will be successful. You must think in terms of learning as well as leadership.

A successful person is one who listens to both sides of an issue before he makes a final decision. If he is a successful person he will never mislead those who are following him. He will also be honest and fulfilling.

Thru his effective teachings, he will influence people to become more aware of what is happening around in global affairs. He will try to make them concentrate more on self-esteem, pride and dignity. He will teach them how to work with their brothers and sisters. He will teach them the essentials of education and he will see to it that they will work hard in trying to succeed.

Middle Income Student Assistance Act

On November 1, 1978, President Carter signed the Middle Income Student Assistance Act (PL-95-566).

The new legislation will not only increase the average Basic Grant award for eligible students at Prairie View A&M University, but substantially expands the program to include many independent students and families whose incomes are between $15,000 and $25,000. This new legislation will make 95% of the students attending Prairie View eligible to receive a Basic Grant for the 1979-80 school year.

This information can be an important recruitment tool for the securing of students in your respective area. However, students should be aware that Basic Grant funds are available to those who qualify even though the parents income is $25,000.

A typical family of four with an income of $25,000, one child is postsecondary education and one parent employed will receive a grant of $200 for the 1979-80 school year.

Please share this information concerning the Middle Income Student Assistance Act with other personnel in your area. Also, the students currently enrolled in your area should be made aware of the Act and encouraged to apply for the Basic Grant for 1979-80 even though they may have been denied a grant heretofore.

The Basic Grant applications will be available in this office for the 1979-80 school year on January 1, 1979.

Winter Almost Here

By JoAnn Alderson

I guess all of you have noticed the chilly weather that has blown our way. We have to start looking for our coats, jackets and try to find our long johns.

But if you think this weather is really winter you ain't seen nothing yet. This Texas weather is something to see.

The rains usually come along with the wind. So if you're out walking to your class and it starts to rain, make sure your umbrella is in good working conditions. I remember the time I was walking to my class one Wednesday afternoon with my umbrella tucked under my arm. Then it started pouring. But my umbrella, my trusted friend, wouldn't open. I used all sorts of words and I pleaded but to no avail. Needless to say my hair and clothes were soaked by the time it opened.

So be prepared for the cold weather up ahead. But it's really not that bad. I kind of like the cold wind blowing on my face.

Sigma Gamma Rho In The News

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority Inc. is pleased to be announcing their fall activities that we as a group accomplished during this semester. During the initial pledge there were four more elegant ladies introduced into our sorority. They were: Wanda Collins, Galveston, Texas, sophomore, Nursing major; Cynthia Andrus, Galveston, Texas, sophomore, nursing major; Yolanda Morrow, Houston, Texas, sophomore, mass communication; Eugenia Dickson, Houston, Texas, senior, engineering major.

These young ladies are truly an asset to Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority. They all exemplify good character and high standards.

The month of October was dramatic and exciting due to the Halloween activities. The pledgees' gave a party at the Child Development Nursing Center and this event was a success. There were also sales and parties given in the name of Sigma during the month of November.

The Queen of the Sorority is Sharon K. Griffin and the queen of the Aurora Pledge Club was Wanda Collins, who participated in the Homecoming event celebrating Prairie View's 100 years of progress. This semester has enlighten the familiar and unfamiliar people that Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority do exist and our goals are to facilitate in Greater Community Service — Greater Progress. Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority is grateful to all that helped to make this semester a success and made the name of Sigma known to all.

Book Review Set December 13

Dr. Noble B. Armstrong will review James A. Michener's book "Chesapeake" at 6:00 p.m. Wednesday, December 13, 1978 at the President's Campus Residence, Prairie View A&M University, Prairie View, Texas. The public is invited.

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH — Mr. Arthur W. Williams (Center) received a $25 cash award from Mr. Al Drake, the Director of Handy Andy Food Services, the Commercial Company which provides food service for Prairie View A&M University Students, while Mr. James Lewis, the Production Manager in the Dining Hall, looks on.

Food Service Employee of the Month

By Matthew A. Shoyebo
Recognition and development of the employee's ability is a prime requisite of any successful organization. The Handy Andy Food Services Company's system of making a cash award every month in recognition of an outstanding Employee is no doubt boosting the moral of all the workers in the Dining Hall as the standard of food services to the students is increasing rapidly.

According to Mr. Al Drake, The Director of Food services here at Prairie View A&M University, the advancement requisities are conducive to both the recognition and development of ability. Nowadays, however, there is a general good feeling among the students about the improvement in the overall food services in Dining Hall.

Naming the "employee of the Month" is Mr. Arthur W. Williams a Dining Hall Veteran who received a cash price of $25 in recognition of his outstanding performance in the execution of his responsibilities in the Dining Hall.

The Food Services Company also recognized and honored the following Employees who celebrated their birthdays during the month of November they are: Ms. Faye Horado, Ms. Rosie Williams, Obie Harrison, Ms. Joyce Jaffreys and Barbara Moore. They too will be proud of the honor bestowed upon them by the Management.

AKA Wants to Know

Where Do We Go From Here

Most people are only now beginning to realize that the party is over. Actually, it was about 10 years ago when the trend of liberalism was replaced by conservatism in the Supreme Court and government with appointments by former President Nixon. As we near the end of the 1970's, we are still witnessing ramifications of this action. This conservatism has filtered down throughout America.

A classic example of a trend towards conservatism is the attempt by some school districts to put some teeth into a high school diploma. In the liberal 1960's, there was a movement in education that centered not on basic courses, but on individual expression. As we can see, this idea of individualism produced a large number of people who have grave deficiencies in "readin', writin', and 'rithmetic."

The hand of conservatism has even touched Prairie View. The federal government has tightened regulations whereby the student will now have to perform up to higher standards to keep his BEOG. The government is tired of giving micky mouse college students money to waste and so are the taxpayers.

Concerning the recent Bakke decision, no one should be surprised at the judgement made by the Supreme Court. The court didn't sweep affirmative-action programs from the face of the earth. Nor did it say that Bakke couldn't enter the University of California at Davis medical school.

Proposition 13 and its predecessors of some of the same magnitude, increased the crackdown of welfare crooks, the recent Supreme court decision on use of obscenities over the air waves, and increased defiance by management concerning demands made by unions all reflect increased conservatism in the United States.

What we must now realize is that after the party, someone's got to clean up, and the ones who go home are likely to have a hangover. We are now compensating for the moderation of the 1960's, and some people are having a difficult time getting used to the new rules.

The eight new members initiated in Epsilon Omicron Chapter #135 at Prairie View A&M University October 27, 1978 were: Felecia Cannon, Felecia DeLoach, Vergenese Dixon, Valerie Haslip, Jennie Lyles, Sandra Smith, Bernita Washington, Sherrol Woodard.

A luncheon was held in the Student Lounge of Hobart Taylor Hall.

Members of Epsilon Omicron Chapter also entered a decorated car in the Homecoming Parade Saturday, November 4, 1978. Our program for Homecoming included returning Alumni: Dr. Kitty D. Mooring, Chairman, Department of Business Education, Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas; and Mr. John H. Williams, Assistant Professor, Department of Marketing, College of Business, Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas, who served as panelist for questions posed by current juniors and seniors.

FACTS ABOUT ILLEGAL USE OF THE PHONE

Each year, more and more people find out the hard way that making fraudulent Long Distance phone calls is a serious crime.

Toll fraud adversely affects other phone customers by increasing the cost of service.

That's why a concentrated effort is being made to arrest and convict offenders. Electronic checking devices, computers and strict law enforcement have made telephone fraud a solvable crime.

Here's a brief outline of offenses and penalties.

IT IS AGAINST THE LAW TO:

- Charge a Long Distance call to a credit card number or student billing number that a person is not authorized to use.
- Have a Long Distance call billed to the University Centrex System or any telephone number that a person is not authorized to use.
- Accept collect calls on the University Centrex System Telephones.
- Obtain any telecommunications service with intent to defraud.

PENALTY:

- Up to 10 years in prison on a felony conviction or 1 year on a misdemeanor conviction.
- A fine of up to $5,000.
- Restitution for the total cost of the fraud.
- A permanent criminal record.

Warefield Leads —

Panthers Drop TSU 20-6 in Dome

Richard Warefield called it. He predicted his Prairie View team would whip Texas Southern and he urged everyone to come out and see for themselves.

Saturday night, 10,790 people did. And they found out that Warefield is indeed something of a soothsayer.

The Panthers stung injury-riddled TSU with a couple of warefield to Oscar Cooper touchdown passes in the first half and then held on for a sweet 20-6 victory over their arch-rivals in the Astrodome.

Prairie View finished its season at 3-7, out the Panthers went out on a high note. The Tigers finished with a five-game losing streak and a 3-7-1 record.

After building up a 14-0 halftime lead, Prairie View saw the Tigers take the second-half kickoff and march 70 yards for what would be their only score.

With freshman running back William James picking up most of the yardage, TSU marched smartly downfield. James ultimately got the touchdown on a 6-yard run and it looked like the Tigers were back in business with 12 minutes left in the third quarter, trailing only 14-6.

But the Panthers took control of the game from that point on, utilizing the passing of Warefield and the tremendous punting of Gary Nicholas.

PV Gold Team Wins Intrasquad Basketball Game

Seniors Larry Hagan and George Walker are the men Head Coach Elwood Plummer is counting heavily on this season in the absence of three of last year's starters. And in Prairie View's annual intrasquad game those two were the shining stars.

Hagan, a transfer, canned 12 of 27 field shots Monday for a game-high 26 points and George Walker of Houston Yates tossed in another 16 to lead the Gold team to a 101-81 victory over the Purple.
