Recently, when Prairie View's R. O. T. C. Regiment marched onto Blacklund Field, more than 400 cadets demonstrated the college's commitment to world peace.

The summer uniforms of the cadets complemented their sincere and successful efforts of the military staff, and visiting "inspectors" from the college staff and cadets were impressed with the cadets' appearance.

The midshipmen swore—in red, blue, and yellow, symbols of the Infantry Field Artillery and Calvary, respectively—their allegiance to the overall spectacle.

This year's edition of the Military Band and the Drill Team's white helmeted caps and olive-drab uniforms, and the beauty of the scene became even more impressive.

The call to order was made by Lt. Colonel John B. Dalton.

Cadets Awarded

A singular honor each year is that of being named an outstanding student. "Distinguished" in the term used to denote the extra fine caliber of the cadet's performance.

Four cadets were named this year for their outstanding performance. In the R. O. T. C., their general academic standing; and their participation in the student activities of the college. They are: L. T. H. A. R. E. S. J. E. S. E. F. O. W. L. K.

Each of the cadets named has been an outstanding student during the four years of their academic and R. O. T. C. training.

As the result of their distinction, they have the opportunity to choose careers in the regular army.

Lady of the Year, Claudette Nichols

The Battalion and Company Cadet Awards were cited for their contributions to the military program and morale during the year.

The entire afternoon's program was interesting, colorful and educational. Members of the cadet staff were presented— including a new set of uniforms; the Professor of Military Science; Major Frank M. Christiansen, was on hand to make awards; President E. E. J. Banks, a native of Port Arthur, and was a world renowned military student, was among the guest of honor; E. E. Johnson, wife of the president-elect; X. Banks, wife of the presidential-student; wives of the military professors; and cadets were among the guests.

Captain Carlos A. Cartwright presented the outstanding student of the college. The entire afternoon's program included special letters of appreciation and commendation were presented to the Bandmaster, Leonard Bowden; Mrs. R. O. T. C., Ernestine Craft.

The Russell Lewises—Both PhD's

First Couple in the History of K. S.

A man and his wife will be awarded doctoral of philosophy degrees at Kansas State College's spring commencement exercises May 29. It is the first time in the history of the institution that this has occurred.

The couple are Roscoe W. and Burnadine L. Lewis, who with only 18-year-old-graduated daughter, reside in Haysville on the Kansas State University campus.

Honors' Day Observations at Prairie View

Many members of the College student body were given recognition on "Honoring Day," Thursday, May 12 at 11:00 A.M. in the Auditorium Gymnasium.

Scholarships, bursaries, certificates and other awards were presented to those students who met the requirements—both academically and extra-curricularly—at Prairie View during the year.

Mrs. Lewis joined her husband at Kansas State College in 1924, the year before their daughter was born. She did research on the fat stability and its effect on the flavor and chemical properties of the bird. Mrs. Lewis is earning her degree in foods and nutrition. She did research on the fat stability of tocopherols.
