P. V.'s Contribution to World Peace Is Seen at R.O.T.C. Field Day

Recently, when Prairie View's by Lt. Col. Mack Ogletree (Hemp-R. O. T. C. Regiment marched onto Blackshear Field, more than 500 cadets demonstrated the college's "contribution to world peace."

The summer uniforms of the cadets complemented by the officers and noncoms' of the military staff, and visiting "inspecting officers" from the college staff and graduate student body created an impressive sight.

The multicolored scarfs - blue, red, and yellow, symbols of the Infantry Field Artillery and Calvary, respectively-added to the overall spectacle.

Add to this the white helmets of the Military Band, and the Drill Team's white helmets, "leggins," belts and M-1 rifle slings, and the beauty of the scene becomes more apparent.

Precision, expeditious manuevers, order and discipline made the Field Day memorable from every viewpoint.

Competitions

At all levels, drilling competitions were keen. Particularly noticeable was the rivalry between companies, platoons and squads for first place(s).

"Abel" and "Dog" companies commanded by Cadet Captain Phillip Thorn and George Fisher tied for coveted "first."

"Gog" and "Easy" platoons were put through their paces by Cadet Lieutenants Johnson and Mack

"Baker" and "Charlie" squads led by Cadet Holland Bynum and Cleveland Gilcrease "stepped out smartly" as commands reverberated across the drill field.

Distinguished Military Students Announced

A singular honor each year is that of being named an outstanding military student. "Distinguished" is the term used to denote the extra fine caliber of the cadet's performance.

Four cadets were named this year for their overall performance in the R. O. T. C.; their general academic standing; and their participation in the student activities of the college. They are: LOSTON HARRIS, ESSEX FOWLKS, JAMES WALLACE, and ELIJAH

Each of the cadets named has been an outstanding student during the four years of his academic and R. O. T. C. training.

As the result of their distinction, the cadets have opportunity to choose careers in the regular army. Miss R. O. T. C., Ernestine Craft;

The Battalion and Company Queens were cited for their contributions to the military program and morale during the year.

Special Unit Citations were made to the Military Band and the Drill Team as the "Honor Units of the Year."

Interesting Program Throughout

The entire afternoon's program was interesting, colorful and educational. Members of the military staff were presented-including a description of their military service to date-the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Major Frank M. Christmas, was on hand to make awards; President E. B. Evans who presented the outstanding military student award, was among the guests; Mrs. W. R. Banks, wife of the president-emeritus; wives of the military professors and sweethearts of the cadets were among the spectators.

Captain Alonzo O. C. Sargent made the offiical announcements of all proceedings, assisted by Renaldo Yerwood, senior cadet.

Field Day is an annual observance, and thousands of spectators should always be on hand to witness the very fine activities and

May, 1955

A man and his wife will be awarded doctor of philosophy degrees at Kansas State College's spring commencement exercises May 29. It is the first time in the history of the institution that this has occurred.

The couple is Roscoe W. and Burnadine L. Lewis, who with their 10-year-old daughter reside in Hilltop Courts on the campus.

Roscoe and Burnadine first met as students at Prairie View A. & M. College, Prairie View, Texas, where they both received their bachelor of science degrees, he in 1939, and she in 1941. They were wed in 1942.
