YOUR WEEK

As The Beetle Goes

When the Beetle, as Prairie View's blue bus is somewhat irreverently called, piloted by able Mr Joe Jones, took off two Thursday mornings ago in a driving rain for Southern University, there was some doubt as to whether or not it could make the trip. The track and tennis teams were going, by Beetle, to the Southwestern Conference track meet and tennis tournament. There was also some doubt as to our ability to garner enough points to win the trophy emblematic of a conference championship. The track team's mentor knew intimately the potentialities of each member of his team. And while the Beetle labored heavily over the late Huey P Long's bayou and river bridges Coach Stevens made a definite statement: if his men could amass enough second or third place points their chances were good, but if in the face of insurmountable odds they failed to drive to a money finish they would end up out of the running.

After some ten hours on the highways we were in Southern. And some forty-eight hours later Prairie View had won the conference track meet, the singles tennis championship, and her doubles team runner-up in the doubles event. The track team's victory was an excellent example of what a team can do in spite of superior individual opponents.

As the Beetle roared back along Louisiana's magnolia and oak-lined U S 171, the coaches were justifiably proud of the conduct of the Prairie View men comprising the track and tennis teams. They exhibited a spirit of unity, and a will to win that paid off with two large trophies - one more than any of the other seven conference colleges received. The Beetle made it - so did they!
