Y A I (You Are Invited)

The Alumni-sponsored Halloween party is Thursday evening. An honest attempt was made to send an invitation to each faculty member. If, however, you have not received one kindly contact Miss G M Elder at the Registrar's Office.

Of Interest to Seniors

Applications for graduation are now being accepted by the Registrar's Office.

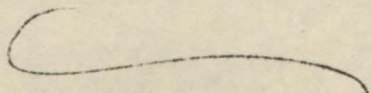

YOUR WEEK

About "The Razor's Edge"

W Somerset Maugham's "The Razor's Edge" might have been called, less picturesquely of course, "A Man's Search for His Soul." It is, too often, the very subtileness with which a writer approaches his subject that causes less discerning minds to miss the point. And it is an appreciativeness of nuance, for almost imperceptible change in things (the handiwork of God), that must be developed if we are to attain higher spiritual levels.

Comments heard after the picture last Friday evening indicated that many of us were too caught up with Miss Tierney's seductiveness, and the handsomeness of Mr Power. We were sold such a bill of goods on beauty and charm until it became difficult to capture with our mind's eye the inspirational theme which ran deeper than the skin.

Mr Maugham's "Larry" was man at his discerning best. Having discovered the impermanence of those things usually considered permanent, he sought, as must each man through introspective research, truth and knowledge akin to wisdom -- he sought and found his soul. Not having Miss Tierney around as Mr Power did may ease or complicate our problem, in that we must maintain a fine balance between spiritual and physical needs in a much more realistic fashion. If, however, we can reach objectively for truth, and remain realistically earth-bound, we, too, shall know truth.
