of education that will lead unmistakably to- 1. a greater vocational competence, a variety of skills, a greater production and a high income level;... 4. a solidarity of interests, racial unity and less talk;....and, 6. a wholesome attitude towards all human beings regardless of race, creed or color."-Principal Banks

" By their Works ye shall know them"

Principal Willette Rutherford Banks

".....I arrived here (Prairie View) on the morning of August 1, 1926, just as the sun was rising. I have had twenty years of the most valuable and varied experiences of my life. Here is where I have met practically every known human problem....I shall give up the active duties as Principal of Prairie View University August 31, 1946- twenty years older, a wiser, a stronger and a more determined man, more sympathetic and calculative, and with a Great Big Thankful Heart because of what happened here....."
