B. O. I. Courtesy Week, February 20-26

The Barons of Innovation Courtesy Week will be observed at Prairie View A&M College beginning on Sunday, February 20.

The advent of the occasion will be highlighted by a distinguished speaker, The Reverend David Leon Everett II. The Reverend Everett received a B. A. Degree at Samuel Huston College-Austin, where he graduated Cum Laude and the Bachelor of Divinity at Gammon Theological Seminary — Atlanta, Georgia. Later, he began post graduate study toward the doctorate at the University of Oslo, Norway and architectural and engineering study at Del Mar College — Corpus Christi. Presently, he serves the Jerusalem Missionary Baptist Church, 2201 Taum Avenue, Houston, and is a visiting professor of Homiletics and Practical Theology at the Union-Inter Baptist Theological Seminary in Houston. The Prayer Meeting Choir will provide music for the 11:00 Hour services.

The Reverend Everett was for four years (1953-57) columnist and staff writer for the ROBSTOWN RECORD, Robstown, Texas, where he wrote on a non-segregated basis and received a citation in EBONY'S SPEAKING OF PEOPLE feature (April 1954). His poetry has appeared in papers and periodicals in the United States and Europe, and two booklets SONGS OF THE SEA and SEA MOODS have been exhausted in sales. He is also the author of WHAT MAKES A GREAT CHURCH and BUILDING AND GROWING A CHURCH. Another book of original poems is now ready for his publishers, and he is presently preparing another manuscript dealing with the so-ciology of the Deep South. Among his dramas and plays are BLOOD ON THE GROUND, which has a southern interracial conflict theme and THE DESERTED AND THE DAMNED, a choreographical skit with a single musical theme of one note running throughout. A member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, he is in frequent demand as a speaker before school, college and university groups across the country and likewise gives readings of his original works upon occasion.

The Jerusalem congregation numbers something in excess of twelve hundred, an increase of some eight hundred (800) or more in the eight years of his pastorate.

Throughout the week, a series of events is scheduled to take place. Among them is the Children's Hour which is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ballroom. On Feb. 23, at 8:00 p.m. in the Ballroom, there will be a college night for High School seniors. The Barons of Innovation Club will also be in charge of the Sunday School services.

English Institute To Explore New Grammar and Composition

The Annual English Institute scheduled on March 5 at Prairie View A & M College will explore "New Grammar" and "New Composition" in teaching linguistically disadvantaged students.

The one-day meeting for teachers and other interested persons will be held in the Memorial Center at Prairie View beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr. Michael Shugrue, executive secretary of The Modern Language Association, will deliver the keynote address.

Other speakers are professor

James Duckworth, department of English, University of Houston and professor Sam Su Lin, department of English, Southern University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The Institute is sponsored by the department of English at Prairie View A & M under the direction of Dr. Anne L. Campbell.

Role of Science Is Topic for 11th Annual Institute

The role of science in general education is the Theme for the eleventh annual Institute for Teachers of The Natural Sciences scheduled Saturday, March 12, at Prairie View A & M College.

Keynote speaker for the occasion is Dr. John C. Allred, vice-president and dean of faculties, University of Houston.

Consultants for the three sectional meeting scheduled for the afternoon include Dr. Karl Bleyl, director of science and foreign languages, Cypress-Fairbanks Public Schools, Houston; Dr. Exalton Delco, professor of Biology, Huston-Tillotson College; and Dr. James Perry, professor of Science education, Texas Southern University.

The sectional meeting topics are: (1) The role of science in elementary schools; (2) The role of biological science in general education for secondary schools; and (3) The role of physical science in secondary schools.

The annual conference is sponsored by the Department of Natural Sciences at Prairie View, Dr. E. E. O'Banion, chairman.

State Cage Meets Begin Today

The state basketball tournament for class A and B schools in the Interscholastic League at Prairie View A&M College opened here Thursday.

Finals in both classifications are scheduled Saturday afternoon in the college gymnasium.

Larger high schools in classes 2A, 3 and 4A will have their district winners at Prairie View next weekend for the state basketball tournament.

Fifty State and National Leaders Will Participate

Prairie View A & M College's Annual conference on Education scheduled on March 4 will emphasize the human relations factor in helping the culturally disadvantaged.

To discuss this new approach to a serious need in education, the college has invited a large number of specialists in community relations and education to serve as speakers and consultants. Included are three mayors of Texas cities, and outstanding community leaders and educators.

Keynote speaker for the 37th annual conference is Dr. Martin Deutsch, director of the Institute for Developmental Studies, New York Medical College. Dr. Deutsch has served in several national programs, involving the socially and culturally handicapped and other activities associated with desegregation.

Dr. Bennetta B. Washington, director of the Women's Centers DIVISION, Job Corps, Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D. C., will serve as luncheon speaker.

Mayors Louie Welch, Houston; Lloyd Hayes, Port Arthur and Hank Avery, Midland will serve as consultants for the discussion area — "The Nature of the Community." Serving in the same area are Bishop John L. Morkovsky S. T. D., Apostolic See SPEAKERS, page 6

National Placement Officials Meet With Student Leaders

On Monday of this week the student leaders met with representatives from the College Placement Bureau concerning employment for students after they complete college.

The meeting opened with Dr. Evans giving the purpose of the meeting and introducing the representatives. The representatives were: Anthony Rachel, assistant to the director of the Civil Service Commission, Phillip Brockway, from the Placement Bureau of the University of Maine, Roy Walters, Director of College Employment for American Telephone and Telegraph Company, John Brooks, from the Placement Bureau of North Texas State University.

Brockway then took over the program and gave a brief explanation of their college placement program.

After an explanation of this See PLACEMENT, page 5.

Chemistry Dept. Offers New Course

Prairie View A&M College's Department of Chemistry is now offering a new course in Radioisotopes. The course was made possible by a $12,000 grant from The Atomic Energy Commission.

The new offering by the department is designed to give training in the use of Radioisotopes to majors in the fields of health, science, engineering, and agriculture in both teaching and research.

Dr. Charles Urdy, professor of chemistry at Prairie View is teaching the course this semester.

Lena Horne Here Sunday

Movie and Television Star Lena Horne will be the guest of Prairie View A&M College on Sunday, February 20. She will participate in a symposium scheduled for 3:00 p.m. in the Health and Physical Education Building.

Miss Horne's visit to Texas and Prairie View is sponsored by Doubleday and Company, publishers of her book, "Lena," a current popular seller. She will discuss her book and other matters pertaining to her successful career.

The presentation of the movie actress and singer before the students of the college is sponsored by the department of English, Dr. Annie L. Campbell, chairman. The symposium is sponsored by The Charles Gilpin Players, the campus dramatic group.

The public is invited to attend.

U. S. Civil Service Recruiting Students for Summer Jobs

The United States Civil Service Commission will recruit college students for summer positions as Seasonal Assistants in their local hometown post offices at $2.37 an hour.

Seasonal Assistants are hired for temporary employment during the summer to assist the regular workforce in handling the mail. Some assignments involve the operation of motor vehicles.

In order to meet the requirements as a Seasonal Assistant, a written examination will be administered. The exact time, date, and place of the exam will be given after making application, and sample test questions will be sent to applicants. The entire exam will consist of a one-hour minimum. Form AN2300 which accompanies the announcement of the exam will list the places where the test will be held.

Those who pass the exam will be furnished a list of those post offices in your state of residence where appointments will be made; applicants will be asked to select not more than three of those offices for which you wish to be considered.

Any other Civil Service examination that you may have already taken or are planning to take will not be used for summer employment in the Postal Field Service. The Seasonal Assistant exam is the only exam that will qualify you for summer employment in the Postal Field Service.

For positions involving operation of motor vehicles, persons will be required to demonstrate ability to drive safely.

Age limit for prospective applicants is 18 years of age, with the exception of high school graduates that have reached the age of 16. You may apply to take the examination even though you do not now meet these requirements, provided that you can meet them by the time you are scheduled to enter on duty.

To apply as a Seasonal Assistant, acquire form 5000AB, or information about where to get it, from your post office, your college placement office, or any Civil Service Office. For Texas residents you may write to the EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, ESTABLISHMENT BOARD OF U. S. CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINERS, U. S. POST OFFICE, DALLAS, TEXAS 75221.

The sons or daughters of Federal employees may not be appointed to a summer job in the same department or agency in which the mother or father works.

Shrine Pageant To Be Highlight

A giant talent show, emceed by the famous show business personality, George Jessel, will be the highlight of the 1966 Shrine Crippled Children's Pageant.

This year's Pageant is scheduled for March 16-17 at the Sam Houston Coliseum.

The announcement of Jessel's appearance was made today by William E. Mattison, Assistant Rabban of Arabia Temple in Houston, and chairman of the Crippled Children's Pageant.

"The talent show feature of the 1966 Pageant," Mr. Mattison said, "is a change in format from previous Pageants. This year we are searching for the best talent available. In fact, the show is being billed as the 'Shrine Search for Stars'."

Mr. Mattison declared that top prizes are being lined up for the Pageant winners and that everyone who participates will receive an award.

"We want talent of every type — singers, dancers, musicians, comedians, just to name a few. There is no age limit and amateurs as well as professionals are eligible."

Talent auditions for the Pageant are being held each Tuesday and Thursday in February and the first two weeks in March. Those who are interested in auditioning for the Pageant may call Arabia Temple, CA 7-0243, for an application.

Each audition session will be judged and it will be from these that the Pageant performers will be selected. The Pageant itself will be judged by a group of well-known people who will be announced shortly, Mr. Mattison said.

This year will mark the 48th annual Shrine Crippled Children's Pageant in Houston. All proceeds will go to the Shrine Crippled Children's Clinic, located at 1402 Outer Belt Dr. in the Texas Medical Center.

Science Group Holds 12th Regional Meeting at PV

The Beta Kappa Chi Honor Society and the National Institute of Science held their twelfth regional meeting at Prairie View A & M College, on Saturday, February 12. The keynote speaker on this occasion was Dr. Charles A. Berry, Chief of the Center Medical Progress of the National Aeronautical and Space Administration.

Dr. Berry delivered an illustrated lecture dealing with medical and physiological data accumulated from the flights of all of America's astronauts up to the present time. Perhaps the most important inference to be made from the study and analysis of this data is that the human body exhibits marked capacities of adaptation to the stringent requirements of the space environment.

American Airlines Offer Half Fare To Students

High school and college students throughout the nation are signing up for travel at half fare on American Airlines. This is the way the plan works: American's Youth Plan was to become effective on January 27. From that time on, any holder of a Youth Plan Identification Card may purchase a ticket, at half the jet coach fare, for travel anywhere on American Airline's domestic system on a standby basis. The age limit is from 12-22. He or she will be boarded after regular revenue passengers and military standbys.

Youth Plan Cards are now available at any American Airline. See AIRLINES, Page 6

Delegates were present representing the chapters of the Southwest Region of both organizations. Several research papers were presented by both faculty and student members of the professional organizations.

TIME INC.

Campus Representative for 1966

A position is now open on your campus. A Time Inc. college representative on a small or medium-sized campus can expect to earn $200 to $750 in commissions annually selling subscriptions to TIME, LIFE, SPORTS ILLUSTRATED, and FORTUNE at reduced students' and educator rates. On larger campuses, many of our representatives earn over $750 a year. They work hard, of course, but their hours are their own, and they gain valuable business experience in this year-round marketing program. Send name and address, college, class and any other information you consider important to Time Inc., College Bureau, TIME & LIFE Building, Rockefeller Center, New York City 10020. All applications must be submitted by March 1, 1966. You will be contacted promptly.

Ebony Revolution

by Roscoe Harrison

The Negro revolution is not ten years old. The angry young men and women who rose up to claim what belonged to them, are responsible for transforming a well-mentioned but slow moving cause in a full-fledged revolutionary movement. The young Negro's demand today is total war to achieve total rights. If there is any word in this struggle more hated by these young militants than "moderation", it is "tokenism." This revolution exacts from its revolutionists, requires of its old friends and allies a staunch and thorough going commitment in both motivation and concrete actions. Nothing short of this absolute commitment is acceptable anymore.

The sudden emergence of the Negro's revolutionary mood caught many of his friends, particularly among labor and the liberals, unaware. Satisfied with their own good intentions, they were geared to a gradual approach to equality. Now they are puzzled and offended by the criticisms that impatient Negroes have leveled at them.

In the movement for equal rights we discovered a history: Had not the slaves rebelled tirelessly against their lot as we now rebel. We found heroes and examples out of our own past: Gabriel Prosser, Nat Turner, Denmark Vesey, Frederick Douglass, Harriet Tubman, and Samuel E. Cornish. We sensed the presence of black men all over the world who were engaged in efforts paralleled to our own. In the movement we found identity.

How often I have been asked by white liberals, "But what can I do?" The answer is simple. They can integrate their neighborhoods and schools as purely and diligently as ever. They are responsible for segregation and only they can end it. The white man should be an integrationist. The fact that some Negroes now build their own lives independently and without apology has no bearing upon this white responsibility. Nor, I think, should whites advise Negroes to separate themselves, for that always sounds suspiciously like a demand for segregation. Separation — independence — must be our choice to make and our program to achieve. It should deter the traditional integrationist efforts of civil rights and civil liberties groups, church and labor groups, fair housing and fair employment committees not a jot.

"The history of the American Negro," wrote Du Bois, "is the history of this strife — this longing to attain self conscious manhood, to merge his double self into a better and truer self . . . He would not Africanize America, for America has too much to teach the world and Africa. He would not bleach the Negro soul in a flood of white Americanism, for he knows that Negro blood has a message for the world. He simply wishes to make it possible for a man to be both a Negro and an American without being cursed and spat upon."

Civil Rights Booklet To Aid Rural Families

"You Too Can Get Help," an easy to read 24-page illustrated booklet, has been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to help implement the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by guiding low-income farm and nonfarm minority groups and others to sources of assistance.

The brochure opens with the civil rights guarantee in Section 601 of Title VI of the Act. "No person in the United States," it says, "shall, on the grounds of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

Throughout the remainder of the illustrated booklet are lists of the kinds of assistance anyone needing them may receive. The lists include loans for improvement or purchase of a farm and repair or construction of a home.

Other loans may be obtained for seed, fertilizer, farm machinery, running water in the home, a small business, such as a repair shop, or cutting and hauling timber.

And both funds and professional assistance are available to help meet a variety of needs, including conservation of farm land, planting trees, organizing a cooperative, establishing commercial recreation facilities, protecting one from crop losses due to floods, storms, droughts, and other disasters, and getting a School Lunch Program started.

The booklet directs rural people to the County Extension Service, Farmers Home Admin-

PV Students Badly in Need Of Reading Aid

BY JOSEPH MOORE JR.,
Instructor Department of Political Science

concerning our students' backgrounds.

We need not accept this defeatist attitude. For the Negro's problem as it relates to education is perennial, and for that reason we should put aside our old myths and consider the new realities of this problem. No problem of human endeavor is beyond human beings. Man's logic and reason have often solved the seemingly unsolvable, and I believe they can do it again.

A false concept of education can lead only to stagnation and a situation which could conceivably perpetuate the very illness we strive so hard to cure. A student who cannot read does not know for certain what is going on, or where he is going. No school has taught him how to read; therefore, his imagination is limited. This student does not make a good listener, for the lecturer does not communicate with him. In essence this individual lives in a world of darkness of which he cannot see, or does not comprehend because of his reading deficiency. Thus, this institution should provide a guiding light with which this darkness may be penetrated.

We tend to look down on the student for failure in subject-matter, scold him for not performing on his level, and the whole list of sins of omission for which he is denounced. I shall not denounce him. My sympathies are with him, for I believe that he has been given an impossible task. Educating is my principal interest; therefore, I give gratefully most of my time to accomplish that end.

As one author puts it: "Books are the compasses, telescopes, sextants and charts which other men have prepared to help us navigate the dangerous seas of human life." If there is any validity to that statement, then we should not deny our students the opportunity to make constructive use of books.

Miss Blanton Well Received in Voice Recital

By Dr. Noble Armstrong

Miss Patricia Louise Blanton, soprano of Henderson, Texas, was presented at Prairie View Auditorium in her graduating recital the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 13, 1966. The well-rounded program offerings culminated four years of intensive music study at the College, under the devoted tutelage of famed vocal coach and head of the voice department, Dr. H. Edison Anderson.

The distinctive feature of this talented student's voice is an un-failing clarity of tone. There is great range, the ability to project with flexibility and power, and great deliberateness in tonal shading. But always there is purity of tone. The classical group contained two Italian songs, with the familiar aria One Fine Day, from Madam Butterfly, sung in appropriate costume.

Especially well selected was the German group, presenting the melodic Impatience, of Schubert, the romantic My Love Is Green, of Brahms, the deeply reflective My Lovely Star, of Schumann, and the compelling and cataphonic Cecilia, of Strauss. Commendable indeed were the brilliant bravura passages executed with consummate skill by accompanist Kenny Arnold. He is surprisingly mature in digital artistry and sympathetic elan.

Universal appreciation of the audience ran true to the timeless favorite Caro Nome (Beloved Name), from Verdi's Opera Rigoletto. It was far more than the intellectual pyrotechnics of a well disciplined voice. Her message also registered indelibly within the hidden recesses of the soul.

Excellent echo effects were exemplified in Duke's The Piper. With the two heart-warming songs from Charles and the triumphal climax attained in Matlotte's Upstream, the moderns were well represented. In the spirit of prayerful appeal the singer led the listeners heavenward in three inspiring spirituals from Boatner, Fischer, and Johnson, with a gracious encore in Rogers' The Star. The concert proved that Miss Blanton is now great in her own right, with a future roseate with full promise of increasingly greater achievement.

Scholarship. He has received first division for piano solo in the Interscholastic League for three consecutive years. At present he is an honor roll student with an accumulative average of 3.68. He was one of the delegates to the Texas Music Educators Association in Dallas, February 10-12, representing Prairie View Chapter No. 18 of the Music Educators National Conference. His fondest dreams are to study at Julliard School of Music in New York and to travel abroad to France, Portugal, and England.

The Department of Music has also chosen for this month the

"What happens if I find, in a year or so, that my real talent and interest lie in another area of electronics—and I want to change direction?"

At Sylvania Electronic Systems—with its nation-wide complex of research and development laboratories and manufacturing plants, this is no problem. The in-house project list is diversified enough to accommodate most career changes. And a comprehensive educational assistance program makes it possible to acquire background needed in any discipline.

Technical or administrative assignments are available in current SES project areas including: ground electronics equipment for Minuteman missile sites • R&D in electronic warfare field • electronic security systems • ASW systems • special purpose airborne computers • laser systems • spaceborne electronic and optical systems... plus world-wide engineering support systems.

Always available—whether you wish to change your field of interest or pursue it—are division-wide conferences, in-plant courses and seminars, and post graduate study plans conducted on an unusually generous scale.

At all times, your professional development will benefit by a positive management attitude toward technical growth as well as the SES small group form of organization—a traditional small company advantage. And you will be able to choose one of three distinct routes for advancement, all with equal rewards—technical specialist, technical manager, program/project manager.

The SES mission—to manage government systems programs for General Telephone & Electronics, the parent corporation—guarantees an abundant variety of challenging and absorbing assignments in state-of-the-art electronics and communications. Wherever your intellectual and professional curiosity leads, you'll have more opportunity to satisfy it at SES.

Warren novel. As in the book, so in the film is Willie's story seen through the eyes of his campaign manager, a man who enters politics as idealistically as his candidate, but who tries to resist its corrupting forces. Willie, however, becomes hardened to violence and corruption; but he is portrayed as a man "who knows in his heart that he is right," believing that his manipulation of power is justified by the good that he is doing for the poorest people who support him. The contradictions in Willie Stark's personality are convincingly brought to the screen in Crawford's performance.

The techniques of the third person narrative allows the story to shift frequently from the upper class milieu of the campaign manager to the humble sources of the politician and back again. Thus the social and economic power of the established class is constantly being contrasted with the potential political power of the poor people, the "hicks" who elevate Willie into the world, if not into the trust, of the rich.

The director is particularly skilled in his mob scenes. The confused, chaotic powers of the mob is symbolic of Willie Stark's power. Throughout the film, noise and confusion are effectively used to project the nature of Willie's control over the masses. Especially noteworthy is the depiction of Willie's conversion from idealism and baptism into corruption, which occurs amidst the raucous confusion of a noisy, blaring amusement park. Disillusioned and worn, Willie sits down for a moment on a children's swing in the park. In one of the simplest but most eloquently composed scenes in the film, Willie is approached by a quiet little girl who in her innocence seems to be seeking a friend. He rebuffs her and chases her from him and her innocence from his life. A moment later, he steps to the platform, and as if embodying the blare and raucousness of his surrounding, enters upon his career as a spell-binding demagogue.

The story line occasionally lapsed into rather corny melodrama, which the discerning audience refused to take seriously. On the whole, however, this example of Hollywood-1949 was well received.

Several of the remaining films in the series will give the students a chance to compare foreign talent with the Hollywood style. The next showing is scheduled for February 24. Watch the bulletin boards for precise details.

LBL

Greetings! Our Annual Valentine's Dance Friday night marked another step closer to the top of the ladder of planned activities for this semester.

Compliments and many orchids to the pledgees, both LBA and LBL, for their service, which was extremely gracious and highly appreciated.

The intermission was highlighted with excerpts from the Annual Pledgee Talent Show. The "Two Cube" group LBA Pledgees, were marvelous in their skit with Webster "Scottie" Williams portraying the typical well-dressed city girl. The group did other numbers which added a great deal of comedy to the evening. The LBL Pledgees presented such numbers as "Come See About Me", by the "Super Supremes", Amey Davis, Artery Hill, and Eva Berry; Cornetta Jackson was a second Jackie "Moms" Mabley; June Sills and Stella Robinson used their creative ability in dancing; and to top all of this with something extra, LaFaye Johnson interpreted "Hole In The Wall" with a lighted baton twirl. All of these numbers, and others, were excellent displays of different talent from the pledge clubs.

To further bring out the Valentine spirit, the LBL pledgees were uniformly dressed in that day's traditional colors, red and white.

Thanks to our sponsor, Mrs. Weaver, our chaperon, Mrs. Gibson, and all others who helped to make this dance a success.

Texarkana - PV

Hello Fellow Students! As usual, we are surrounded with compliments. We, as a club have been complimented, by you as our guest, on our superb "know how" to entertain". Believe me, it is our pleasure as well as a purpose to entertain you as our guest.

Our Annual Valentine's Dance was merely an example of the entertainment we have in store for the future. In the future, we have other big events planned, including a joint "By-Club" Ball, with the Longview-PV Club, and many others.

We wish to thank our sponsor, Dean Leroy Marion, for chaperoning this dance which only made it most enjoyable.

We apologize to the friends, (who decided to attend at the last minute), who were refused because of the accommodation problem. You see, that's just how much everyone wanted to be with the in crowd, so, my friends, and fellow students, we promise this problem won't present itself again, however, our entertainment will always be just as good or better than it was on Friday night.

Newman Club

The Newman Association of Prairie View A & M College cordially invites you to meet and hear Mr. Clovis B. Heimsath, AIA, Houston Architect, who will talk on the subject "A SPACE FOR GOD: DO OUR CHURCHES MEASURE UP?" (a talk with slides), on Sunday afternoon, February 27th, from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m., Ballroom Auditorium in the Memorial Center.

PIR News

We certainly hope that students both old and new were able to readjust to classes again this semester. Many of my brothers as well as myself got a little sluggish over the break, but I think things are beginning to get back to normal.

The company was inspected by P/R General Leiland Rogers of Regiment Headquarters in San Antonio. To a certain extent the General was displeased with the attendance and performance of our company. Cadet Captain James E. Scurry, Company Commander Ronnie E. Wheeler and 2nd Lieutenant Mack V. Murphy assured him that we would be in top shape for the Regimental Meet at Trinity University in April. And we believe that there is a chance that the company may attend the Nationals in Lincoln, Nebraska, and also the famous Cherry Blossom.

I think that it should be recognized that Prairie View is the home of the only all Negro company in the state, and one of the very few in the entire nation.

Recently the P/R's gave a dance that was almost turned out by rival clubs and fun seeking visitors, during the night the Men's Restroom was badly damaged, but the damage will not be charged to the P/R's since Sergeant Lewis found the vandals.

In the near future some young men will receive invitations to the annual "Smoker" meeting for P/R's. We would like to urge those of you who are fortunate in receiving these invitations to attend. They will probably be issued within the week.

The Chics of Royalty will start an observation period at the same time we begin ours. We are sure that they will have lots of success.

The National Society of Pershing Rifles has for the second time sponsored the Red Cross Blood Donations for our soldiers in Viet Nam on the campus of Prairie View A&M College. Here we would like to thank those or all who contributed pints of blood. We would also like to express our appreciation for those who tried and were rejected. If you feel that you would still like to make your donation, we plan to sponsor the Blood Bank in the late spring of the semester. Again we thank you.

Every Science, Engineering and Math student should know about CSSTP before he makes up his mind about a career.

Sign up now at your placement office to get the story on CSSTP—from the IBM interviewer
March 17

CSSTP means Computer Systems Science Training Program.

It's an extraordinary IBM program that enables you to use your technical knowledge and problem-solving skills in new, exciting ways. Ways that may never occur to you unless you talk to the IBM interviewer.

He'll show you how CSSTP leads to exceptional career opportunities with IBM Data Processing.

He'll tell you about the vital role of IBM's Marketing Representative. How he goes into major businesses to help solve their urgent management and control problems. He'll spell out the challenges which face IBM's Systems Engineer.

How he studies customer needs and computer requirements, and develops systems solutions to their problems.

In short, he'll describe all the unusual assignments in IBM's more than 200 offices from coast to coast. All are places where you can grow with IBM, leader in America's fastest-growing major industry: information handling and control.

So don't miss your IBM interview. Visit your placement office and sign up now. If for any reason you can't make it on campus, feel free to visit your nearest IBM branch office. Or write: Manager of College Relations, IBM Corporate Headquarters, Armonk, N.Y. 10504.

Whatever your plans, before you hit upon a career, see if IBM doesn't make a hit with you.

Whatever your area of study, ask us how you might use your particular talents at IBM. Job opportunities at IBM lie in eight major career fields: (1) Marketing, (2) Systems Engineering, (3) Programming, (4) Research and Development, (5) Engineering, (6) Manufacturing, (7) Finance and Administration, (8) Field Engineering. To any kid who'd like to go somewhere:
We'll pay half your fare.

The idea's not as crazy as it may seem.

Anytime we take a jet up, there are almost always leftover seats.

So it occurred to us that we might be able to fill a few of them, if we gave the young people a break on the fare, and a chance to see the country.

The American Youth Plan***

We call the idea the American Youth Plan, and what it means is this:

American will pay half the jet coach fare for anybody 12 through 21.

It's that simple.

All you have to do is prove your age (a birth certificate or any other legal document will do) and buy a $3 identification card.

We date and stamp the card, and this entitles you to a half-fare ticket at any American Airlines counter.

The only catch is that you might have to wait before you get aboard; the fare is on a standby basis.

"Standby" simply means that the passengers with reservations and the servicemen get on before you do.

Then the plane's yours.

The American Youth Plan is good year round except for a few days before and after the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas rushes.

If you can't think of any places you'd like to go offhand, you might see a travel agent for a few suggestions.

We can't add anything else.

Other than it's a marvelous opportunity to just take off.

• Complete this coupon—include your $3. (Do not send proof of age—it is not needed until you have your ID validated.) In addition to your ID card, we'll also send you a free copy of AA's Go Go American with $50 worth of discount coupons.
