MISS PV CROWNED—Celestine Tisdale is being congratulated by President E. B. Evans during the official crowning ceremonies for the student queen.

LAVISH CEREMONIES HIGHLIGHT MISS PRAIRIE VIEW CORONATION

By Merlie Gilmore

"Royalty Beneath the Stars," with ice white and shades of blue under a starry sky in winter, marked the theme for the 27th annual coronation of Miss Prairie View of 1958-59, held at 8 p.m., January 17, in the college auditorium.

Under the stars, were white borders for the fleece of clouds, azure blue for the depth of the sky and spangled stars to hint of the farthest limits of outer space and the faintly-sparkling glow of the mid-night sky. And, beneath this, was a fabulous throne, chain-shaped like and open sleigh covered with three shades of blue, exclusively prepared for her highness, Celestine Tisdale, Miss Prairie View of 1958-59.

From the palace of the queen, the audience watched as Doris Elaine Brown danced a solitary dance, and listened as the organ played "Stairway to the Stars."

As Mr. Don White, at the console of the Hammond Organ began playing the beautiful strains of "Coronation March," by Myerbeer, the members of the court assembled in the ante-room preparatory to receiving the queen.

As the audience sat spellbound, a bright revolving star suddenly appeared from out of space. As the organ played softly, "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody," Her Highness stepped off the star in a flattering creation by Mori Lee, designed to capture all of the beauty and excitement of the occasion. Her skirt had two layers of net over taffeta, and a ruffled rhapsody was depicted in the cascade of tiny ruffles covering the top layer of net from the waist to the floor. Lace gathered from the waistline accentuated this creation by forming several points half way the skirt length. The laced bodice was highlighted by a dainty scalloped sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. A jeweled ice-blue train, twelve feet long, with a stand-up collar and five bands of spiral-turning silver sequins that flowed toward the center in alternate lengths completed Miss Prairie View's attire. This train was designed by Mrs. Pearl Martin.

Her Highness, escorted by Napoleon Milton, King of this event, strolled to her throne and received her crown from Dr. E. B. Evans, President of the college.

As the Collegians played "Here Comes Miss Prairie View," the attractive Miss Tisdale paid homage to her court. Later, she marched back to her lovely throne to enjoy

PRESIDENT EVANS ELECTED TO NATIONAL EDUCATION COUNCIL

Prairie View A. and M. College's president, Dr. E. B. Evans, has been appointed to membership on the Commission on Education and International Affairs of the American Council on Education.

Announcement of the appointment, which runs for three years, was made by the president of the American Council on Education, which has headquarters in Washington, D. C. Dr. Evans' first meeting with the commission is scheduled for January 27.

The Commission on Education and International Affairs was established in 1952 as a reflection of the growing involvement in international educational affairs of the member institutions and organizations of the American Council on Education. It is responsible for assisting colleges and universities and the various agencies of the government in solving problems of common concern in the area of international education.

Dr. Evans has had broad experience with higher education in the international field. For several years he has served as a consultant with the Technical Cooperation Administration, Point IV program. In 1952, he accepted an assignment with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations which included studies in Italy, Pakistan, Egypt and Ethiopia.

the entertainment by the dance group and a cappella choir that was prepared for her. Afterwards, Her Highness was presented gifts and flowers by clubs and organizations.

As the Collegians played the "Anniversary Waltz" by Dubin and Franklin, Miss Prairie View and her escort waltzed gayly through her court. Later, she and her court requested the audience to join in this event.

Her attendants were: Duchess Elizabeth Ann Buchanan, escorted by Duke William Tanner, and (Continued on Page Five)

HATTIE McSWAIN—Represents National Livestock and Meat Board.

COOKING AND BAKING DEPARTMENT SPONSORS MEAT DEMONSTRATION

A field home economist of the National Livestock and Meat Board of Chicago will speak and demonstrate meat preparation at Prairie View A. and M. College on January 23, an announcement from Mrs. L. B. Smith, coordinator of Cooking and Baking, stated.

The visiting speaker and consultant in foods is Mrs. Hattie McSwain, whose presentation will be the result of years of food research done in experimental kitchens and laboratories of universities and hospitals across the nation. Hundreds of studies correlated by the National Livestock and Meat Board will be incorporated in the presentation.

Demonstrations will include the selection of meals, menu suggestions and variety, and valuable information on how to stretch the food dollar. An attractive recipe book, which features all the recipes prepared in demonstration will be given to all in attendance.

Cooperating with the department of Cooking and Baking in this project is the department of Animal Husbandry in the school of Agriculture. Commenting of the importance of the program, the director, Mrs. Smith, said, "This is the first demonstration to appear at Prairie View representing the nationally known

A recommendation to the student council would seek to broaden the base of overall student government on the campus, which is now limited to representatives from four classes and a few select organizations.

The proposal, discussed in a recent meeting of the council, would establish an assembly group with wider campus participation which would report to the 14-member council. The recommendation is being considered by a study group headed by Otis Anderson, senior class president, which is considering revision of the present constitution.

The Council also recommended to the administration that attention be given to the dining hall situation, which has been the subject of discussion following the announcement that board would be raised from $1.09 to $1.20 per day or now 40 cents per meal. Student leaders backed the increase after studying the food service budget and problems, but they have indicated that they feel "some improvements in the service should be made."

A campus-wide meeting was called by the Council two weeks ago to explain the reasons behind the board increase.

Problems of a social nature were also discussed and a conclusion reached that many current difficulties associated with social activities will be solved upon completion of the Student Center planned for occupancy next year.

The Council recalled a recommendation to change laundry pickup hours following a committee report that present arrangements were working out successfully. The group also voted unanimously to change its name from Student Welfare Committee to "Student Council."

final score was PV 26 and F. A. M. U. 8.

The Panthers closed the season in a fashionable manner by over-scoring the Langston Lions 34-8 in the Prairie View Bowl game New Year's Day.

Much of the Panthers' success came as a result of hard work. We must give credit to such outstanding players as Gertris Hornsby, Arthur Sewell, Mac Collier, James White, John "Bo" Farrington, Jimmy Hunt, Quincy Foster, and the great running of Archie Seals and All American Fullback Calvin Scott.

Truly we can say that Coach Billy Nicks' Panthers of 1958 were one of the most outstanding teams that has ever passed through Pantherland.

STUBBLEFIELD—Sinks one for the Panthers.

FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS OF 1958

By Thomas Henderson

Coach Billy Nicks stated, at the beginning of the 1958 football schedule, "that we have a better club than last year but a rougher schedule to face." The teams that we will have to face will have more experience than last year. It was also felt that every team in the conference would have improved over last year's performance about twenty-five percent.

When the Panthers opened the season against Jackson College, it seemed as though Coach Nicks knew what he was talking about. The Jackson College Tigers tied the Panthers 14-14. The Panthers lost 245 yards in penalties.

With two weeks off and the next game to be played in the Cotton Bowl against Texas Southern, the Panthers journeyed to Dallas to play in the State Fair Classic before more than 10,000 fans. In a thrilling finish the men from PV were victorious 26-19. After this most important win the Panthers rolled over Grambling 44-6.

The Panthers gained confidence in themselves and downed Arkansas in our first home game of the season 37-13.

The most exciting game of the year was expected to be played the following week, when the Texas College Steers, sporting a 4-1 record, moved into Pantherland in an attempt to spoil the Purple and Gold 3-0-1 record. With over 10,000 excited Homecoming fans seated around Blackshear Field expecting to see the most exciting game of the season, the Panthers exhibited championship qualities in walloping the Steers 43-0.

The Deltas of Mississippi Vocational were no match for the superior Panthers and went down to defeat 59-19.

A highly spirited Wiley Wildcat eleven defense played the Panthers to a 0-0 Homecoming half-time score but proved to be no match in the third and fourth periods. The final score PV 13, Wiley 0.

With a season of brilliant offense and defense near its close, the last regular scheduled battle proved to be the greatest fight and the greatest victory. A stubborn Southern University eleven led the Panthers 14-0 for a period and 14-8 at half-time. With undisputed claims for the Southwestern Championship at stake, the determined Panthers from Prairie View did not settle with a third period tie, and struck again in the fourth period for a 20-14 win and championship.

The Panthers' season was not yet finished. On a Thursday morning, December 11, 1958, they left by plane for Miami, Florida. Playing before more than 39,000 paid fans at this Orange Blossom Classic, the Panthers managed to go out front early in the first period 19-0.

Thanks to the fancy running of halfback Archie Seals. At half we maintained a 19-0 lead. With both teams playing a scoreless third period, the Panthers scored a final touchdown in the final period. The only score the F. A. M. U. Rattlers could manage came as a result of a penalty to the one yard line. The
